WEAR GOWN TWICE? NO; VERY BAD FORM

Mrs. Howard Gould Enlightens Court on Her Bill at Dressmakers.

OPENWORK MEMORY IS AGAIN IN PLAY

Couldn't Positively Identify Picture of Lady Riding Astride.

New York, June 14.—So large a crowd gathered at the county court house today to attend the trial of the suit for separation of Katherine Clemens Gould against Howard Gould that special police measures were necessary to preserve order. The great majority were disappointed as Justice Dowling limited admission to the seating capacity of the court room.

Preliminary to the reopening of the trial today counsel for Mrs. Gould applied to Supreme Court Justice Gleserich for additional counsel fee of $20,000 and $3,934 to cover the expenses of the case to date. Argument on the application was set for 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Meetings With Farnam.

Mrs. Gould showed few evidences of nervous tension under the rapid fire cross-examination which Delancy Nicoll, attorney for Mr. Gould, began to direct at her when she resumed the stand at the opening of court. Questioned in regard to her acquaintance and meetings with Dustin Farnam, the actor, the witness testified that she did not remember meeting Farnam between August, 1906, when he dined with her at "Castle Gould," and a meeting in Hartford, Conn., when they met together at a hotel in that city. Mr. Nicoll read from the depositions of Elijah Sells, Mrs. Gould's cousin, in which he stated the conditions upon which Howard Gould offered a reconciliation with his wife. The conditions were that Mrs. Gould was not to interfere in the management of "Castle Gould," she was to abstain from intoxicants, to refrain from humiliating Mr. Gould before his friends, and she was to agree to a regulation of her personal finances.

Would Not Admit It All.

Mrs. Gould would not admit the specifications of this agreement when questioned about it, but said "they wanted her to sign a paper to abstain from intoxicants." Clarence J. Shearn, Mrs. Gould's counsel, questioned her at length on redirect examination. She said the letters she had written to Mr. Talloy, manager of "Castle Gould," which were read in evidence and addressed to him as "My Dear Mr. Malloy," were addressed simply in terms of politeness and not in terms of endearment.

Mrs. Gould's Big Bills.

Mr. Shearn referred to the large bills which Mrs. Gould had incurred on her husband's account just prior to and following their separation in July 1906, and which were still unpaid at various jewelry stores and millinery shops here and in Paris. He drew from the witness the statement that if Mr. Gould had given her the allowance he promised she could have paid them all. Mrs. Gould said that as far back as 1899 her husband promised to allow her $10,000 a month. The witness was accustomed to change her gowns some times five and seven times a day. She had to dress at least three times a day at Palm Beach, and more than that during her various trips about Europe.

In answer to questions regarding the cost of her various dresses, etc., Mrs. Gould gave the following estimates:

Dinner gowns, $500 to $600.
Morning gowns, $100 to $150.
Day gowns (worn shopping, etc.), $60.
Tea gowns, $300 to $400.
Reception gowns, $500.

Bad Form to Wear Gowns Twice.

For motoring and coaching and fishing the witness said she required particular gowns, but did not say how much she paid for them.

Mrs. Gould testified that her cosmetics cost her $35,000 to $40,000 a year. She said that Palm Beach was perhaps the most fashionable place in the world and that she dressed there entirely as other women dressed.

"What would happen if you wore one of these gowns twice?" asked Mr. Nicoll.

"It would be considered bad form—very bad," Mrs. Gould replied.

In New York, the witness said, her social position required her to change her entire costume at least three or four times a day.

"How much time is consumed in making these various changes?" asked Mr. Nicoll.

"Two or three hours for each one, usually," said the witness.

Could Have Two Maids.

Mrs. Gould said a lady of her station in New York society required two maids to dress her. Counsel wanted to know of she couldn't dress quicker with four or five maids.

"Mercy, no! I couldn't dress at all with five maids," said the witness.

Castle Gould, the witness said, had had to have entirely different gowns and never used the ones she had.

MAY LAST UNTIL SEPTEMBER FIRST

Senator Bacon Predicts a Tariff Fight Into the Autumn Month.

SOUTH ASKS SQUARE DEAL ON COTTONS

Phillipine Sugar Tariff is Debated in the Senate.

Washington, June 14.—"We will surely be here until the first of August and probably until the first of September," said Senator Clay, of Georgia, today respecting the session of congress.

He had just concluded reading the newspaper report of the action of the senate finance committee with reference to the portions of the tariff bill which had remained unacted upon until yesterday. "I observed," he said, "that the committee has placed a tariff on hides and also on cotton bagging and cotton ties. We of the south are not so much concerned about the duty on hides, but New England need not think that she can tax our people on ties and bagging without hearing from us.

"So far we have remained very quiet in the present contest, but unless I am much mistaken the democratic senators will be heard from from this time on. The duty on bagging alone will cost our people at least $5,000,000 a year and we will not submit without a protest."

Philippine Tariff Up.

The Philippine islands were the subject of consideration by the senate as soon as the tariff bill was taken up today. The finance committee's provision regulating the payment of duties on commodities coming into the United States from the islands, was taken up after the senate had held an executive session and immediately became the subject of animated discussion. The provision permits the free importation of Philippine goods with restrictions and exceptions and on motion of Senator Lodge it was made applicable to Guam and Tutuila on the same terms.

The language of the paragraph relating to the free admission of products of the Philippines was changed to make clear that all manufactured articles imported into the United States from the Philippines should be composed wholly of products of the islands or of the United States. The change was made upon suggestion of Senators Bulkley and Brandgee and was intended to permit Connecticut cigar wrappers to be taken to the islands and then re-imported into the United States as a part of cigar free of duty.

The provision requiring raw or refined sugar to pay the same duty when imported into the United States, aroused Senator Bristow, who thought he saw in it an advantage to the American Sugar Refining company.

Objection New to Aldrich.

Senator Aldrich said he had not heard such an objection before and added that unless some such regulation was made sugar might be shipped into these islands and then come into the United States free of duty.

Declaring that the Philippine sugar was so poor in quality that there was no market for it in the United States, Senator Bulkley said the legislation allowing 300,000 tons annually to come into the United States "was a humbug." The sugar industry in the Philippines, he said, had gone down until now 165,000 tons are raised annually.

"The cause of this condition," he said, "is the laziness and stupidity of the people."

Resuming his remarks, Senator Bristow said: "When you enact this law admitting 300,000 tons of Philippine sugar into this country free of duty, you do not benefit a single American except he be interested in the American Sugar Refining company. Practically the sole purpose of this bill is to benefit the Philippine islands and the Filipinos. Every year they import from Germany and China several millions of pounds of sugar and now the incorporation of this provision for a duty on sugar imported into the Philippines will force the people of those islands to purchase their refined sugar from the American Sugar Refining company. In return for that they can sell their raw sugar to the sugar trust free of duty. I ask senators whether this is in fact legislation in the interest of the people of the Philippine islands."

BATTLESHIP NOT INJURED.

The Michigan Arrives at Shipyard in Camden, N. J.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 14.—The battleship Michigan, which went aground off Cape Cod last Friday after completing one of the tests in connection with her official trial, arrived at the yard of the New York Ship Building company at Camden, N. J. It is said the battleship did not sustain any injury of consequence, but a thorough examination of the big ship will be made before her official trial is finished. The officials of the New York Ship Building company express themselves as satisfied with the performance of the Michigan in the tests already made, the ship having exceeded the speed of 18½ knots an hour called for in her contract.

CASTRO GUEST OF COLOMBIA.

Willemstad, Curacao, June 14.—Celestino Castro, brother of the deported president of Venezuela, who has been in Curacao for some weeks past, quietly left the island Saturday evening for Colombia on board the German steamer Schwarzburg.

PRESIDENT PENNA OF BRAZIL IS DEAD

Chief Magistrate of Great South American Republic Passes Away.

HAD TWO YEARS MORE OF OFFICE

Career of Eminent Statesman Comes Suddenly to a Close.

Washington, June 14.—President Penna, of Brazil, died at half past seven o'clock this morning according to a dispatch received at the state department from the American ambassador at Rio De Janeiro.

The death of Dr. Alfonso Moreira Penna, president of Brazil, evidently was sudden. Other than a dispatch received from Rio De Janeiro last night, saying he was gravely ill and that as a consequence the ministers had been summoned to the palace, there had been no intimation that he was in ill-health.

Dr. Penna was elected to office by universal suffrage in the twenty federated states in 1906, and assumed office Nov. 15, of that year. His term would have expired in 1910. He was a native of the state of Minas Geraes, and his success was the outcome of a coalition of the principal states against Sao Paulo, which has supplied all past presidents.

Had Been Vice President.

He was vice president of the republic and president of the senate at the time of his election to the chief magistracy.

The vice president of the republic today is Nilo Pecanha.

Among the important acts of Dr. Penna's administration was the authorization of the fifty million dollar naval loan, the reduction of the duty upon American products, the raising of the duty on sugar and the signing of an arbitration treaty with Argentina.

Dr. Penna received the officers of the American battleship fleet on its cruise around the world in January of 1908.

On June 10 it was announced in Rio Janeiro that Marschal Hermes Fonseca was a candidate for the presidency in succession to Dr. Penna.

PROFESSOR FOSTER IS NOT TO BE EXPELLED

Chicago Baptists Decide in Secret Conference Not to be Severe.

Chicago, June 14.—The Baptist minister conference, by a vote of 37 to 14, decided today against expelling from membership Prof. George Burnam Foster, of the University of Chicago, whose published utterances on religious subjects have been criticised by Baptist ministers as being heretical and not orthodox.

The show of strength came on a resolution offered as a substitute for the resolution to expel Prof. Foster.

The adopted resolution in substance is a reaffirmation by the assembled ministers of their allegiance to the Baptist church, of their belief in the deity, the bible and the cardinal doctrines of orthodoxy, regardless of the beliefs or words of Prof. Foster or any others.

The adoption of the substitute resolution in effect defeated the original resolution and without further discussion.

Doors Were Closed.

The session of the ministers, usually open to the general public, was closed after a formal resolution had been adopted excluding from the room all persons "who cannot show satisfactory credentials that they are bonafide members of some Baptist church in active service and ministers or laymen of this conference."

Dr. Johnston Myers, who is opposed to Prof. Foster and severely criticises the views of the professor, sought to have the meeting public, but the conference decided against an open meeting.

The charges against Prof. Foster grow out of opinions advanced by him in a book recently published, which are declared by ministers of the Baptist conference to be absolutely opposed to the basic principles of the Baptist denomination. The specific charges were made against Prof. Foster last week by Rev. Dr. W. A. Matthews, who reviewed Prof. Foster's book and pronounced it "rank heresy."

Since then the battle over the orthodoxy of the university professor has been the chief topic of discussion in church circles. Many ministers have declared that he has denied the Divinity of Christ and by so doing forfeited all right to remain in the Baptist church.

MEASLES AT CEDARVILLE.

In the family of J. J. Arnold, at Cedarville, there are six cases of measles and also two cases in the Lycher family. The cases that broke out several weeks ago were confined it was thought but the new cases probably developed from them.

Mrs. Harry Hattersley, who submitted to an operation at St. Joseph's hospital the first of the week, was able to return to her home on Broadway today.

Mrs. Howard Gould on Stand in Famous Suit, the Trial Judge and Her Husband's Attorney.

WILL BE HELPLESS IF HIS LIFE IS SPARED

Captain Raymond, Shot by Frenzied Private, to Have Operation.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 14.—Capt. John C. Raymond, in command of troop B, of the Second cavalry, stationed at Fort Des Moines, who was shot down by Corporal Crabtree Sunday noon, lies at Mercy hospital in a most precarious condition. He is able to move his head a trifle.

Surgeons expect to probe for the bullet today. It is lodged next to the spine in the back of the patient's neck.

Surgeons said that should Captain Raymond survive the operation he will be paralyzed for life.

After shooting Captain Raymond, Crabtree then shot and seriously injured First Sergt. James H. Washburn and Corp. Elijah Such, who attempted to disarm him, and finally shot himself, the bullet striking a rib above the heart and crushing it.

Crabtree had been reprimanded by Captain Raymond because of his failure to report when his leave of absence had expired Sunday morning. He had spent the night in Des Moines and was to have returned to his barracks at 7 a. m. Crabtree was summoned by Captain Raymond Sunday afternoon and questioned as to his conduct, whereupon the corporal hotly insisted he had leave of absence till 7 o'clock last night. Captain Raymond accepted this explanation and the incident was considered closed, when Crabtree demanded that he be transferred to another department of the army, which Captain Raymond refused to consider, telling the corporal he could not do that as long as he was not a good soldier.

Immedately Crabtree pulled a revolver from his pocket and began firing. Sergeant Washburn jumped to his feet and grappled with the soldier, receiving a bullet in the hand and one in the jaw which shattered the bone.

Captain Raymond had seized the man's hand and was about to disarm him when a bullet struck him in the neck, lodging in the spine, and he dropped to the floor paralyzed.

A bullet struck Corporal Such in the left arm. Crabtree then fired a bullet into his own body.

Captain Raymond is the son of Brig. Gen. Charles W. Raymond, retired, formerly of the engineers in charge of rivers and harbors and stationed at New York.

WERE SHOT DOWN IN FIELD WHILE AT THEIR WORK

Two Thousand Laborers in Asia Minor Were Slaughtered Like Rabbits.

Constantinople, June 14.—One of the foreign consuls in Turkey who has arrived at Tarsus after a tour of the scenes of the April massacres has sent in a report confirming the appalling details, in the course of which he says:

"Two thousand laborers were shot like rabbits at Hamadieh and in the surrounding field. Their bodies still are lying as on a battlefield just where they were working."

WILL DISCUSS OPEN SHOP.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 14.—A special convention of the Amalgamation of Iron, Steel and Tin association met today to take action on the "open shop" policy recently announced by the American Sheet and Tin Plate company. According to present indications it is said the convention will vote to resist the order which takes effect July 1.

HANGS HIMSELF IN WAGON SHED

George Zimmerman, Near Maysville, Ends His Life With a Rope.

FOUND BY A SON SUNDAY MORNING

Wealthy Farmer, 67 Years Old, Had Been Nervous and Despondent.

The lifeless body of George Zimmermann, aged 67 years, known as a prominent farmer of Springfield township, this county, was found hanging on a rope from a rafter in the wagon shed on the farm of a son, three and one-half miles east of Harlan Sunday morning. The aged man had been suffering for some time from nervous trouble and several times within the past week had threatened to take his life.

It is supposed that Zimmermann went to the shed and tied the rope around his neck on Saturday evening as there was no one at home at that time, the wife being away on a visit with another daughter and the son and the latter's wife, with whom he lived being in Maysville. When the son returned home Saturday evening and did not find his father, he supposed the latter had gone to join the mother. Mrs. Zimmermann returned home on Sunday morning, however, without her husband and then the search was begun which ended in his being found in the shed.

Zimmermann was well-known in the vicinity in which he lived and was reputed to be wealthy. The wife and four children survive him.

BIG TIME FOR K. O. T. M.

Wayne Tent to Entertain Garrett, Auburn and Butler.

The bi-monthly interurban meeting of the Knights of the Maccabees will be held in this city tomorrow evening when Wayne tent, No. 54, will be host to the lodges at Garrett, Auburn and Butler. The visitors will come down here in chartered cars and over fifty from each lodge is expected. Wayne tent has prepared an interesting program for the entertainment of the visitors. Yesterday forty-two members of Wayne tent attended memorial services at Auburn, going there on a chartered interurban car.

SAT UP DEAD FOR HOURS.

Chef at St. Joseph, Mich., Viewed by Scores Who Passed.

South Bend, Ind., June 14.—A special from St. Joseph, Mich., says:

"Charles Ward, a well-known chef of this city, yesterday entered the Lakeview hotel and went to a wash room, removed his coat and vest and then sat down. Inside of a few minutes he was dead. The coroner's jury is trying today to find out how guests and attaches of the hotel passed by the body for several hours thinking he was asleep. The hotel porter on attempting to arouse Ward discovered all signs of life extinct. A few hours before Ward had said to a friend: 'If I'm found dead you'll give me a good burial, won't you?'"

WATCHING THE NANTICOKE.

Supposed Filibusterer is Far Up the Chowan River.

Washington, June 14.—Captain Ross, chief of the revenue cutter service, received a telegram today from the captain of the cutter Pamlico stating that he had ascertained that the suspected filibusterer, "Nanticoke," was yesterday anchored about seventy miles up the Chowan river in North Carolina. No other information is at present obtainable beyond the fact that the cutter Pamlico has been ordered to take station in the Chowan river and to intercept the Nanticoke when she proceeds down the river.

The fire department was called to the home of M. J. O'Brien, at 1411 Calhoun street, this morning at 11:53 o'clock. Flying sparks had set the roof afire and the blaze was extinguished with a loss of $5.00.

Charles Mulford Robinson Arrives in Fort Wayne to Take Up Work.

WANTS FIRST TO GO OVER GROUND

Says General View of City Seems to Suggest Fine Possibilities.

Charles Mulford Robinson, of Rochester, N. Y., the expert in municipal aesthetics, who has been retained to point the way to a more beautiful Fort Wayne, is in the city to take up the preliminary steps in his work. Mr. Robinson reached the city shortly before noon today over the Wabash, and is registered at the Anthony hotel. To a representative of The Sentinel Mr. Robinson expressed his pleasure at the recent civic revival movement and spoke hopefully of some of the things he expects to be able to suggest for the betterment of Fort Wayne.

"I have only just arrived in Fort Wayne," said Mr. Robinson, "and have not had an opportunity to get about the city to inspect conditions and get any sort of an idea of the problems with which we shall have to contend. Until this is done, of course, I can say very little regarding the specific betterments that are to be recommended. I am extremely glad to see the civic revival spirit manifested in the movement which recently brought Prof. Zueblin to Fort Wayne, and with the citizens all interested and laboring toward one common end there is bound to be definite accomplishment along the lines of civic betterment.

Suggests Fine Possibilities.

"I have never visited Fort Wayne prior to this time and know practically nothing of the city as yet, but on my way hither I made an examination of the map of the city. The general sweep of the rivers suggests some fine possibilities. The street plan, also, is interesting, combining as it does both the regular and the irregular. My effort is always to get in close touch with the local spirit of the city and to aid in developing its originality. I have no sympathy with the movement which would make all cities of one pattern; it is fatal to the natural, individual beauty which may often be developed. Each city should be considered as a problem by itself."

Mr. Robinson explained that the present trip was altogether of a preliminary nature in order that he might get in touch with local conditions, and he stated that it is his purpose to first make a study of a birdseye view of the city from the top of some high building, and then to go carefully over the territory at close range. Just what the scope of the Fort Wayne work would be, Mr. Robinson was unable to say. Usually, however, he explained that it was possible to make suggestions for a comprehensive plan of boulevards and parks, advise regarding street beautification, improvement of river fronts, public buildings and railroad depots and their surroundings.

Began His Inspection.

This afternoon, Mr. Robinson, in company with members of the civic revival committee, the park commissioners and other city officials, began the work of getting closely acquainted with the topography of Fort Wayne. This, he said, would probably require several days' time.

Officials of the recent civic revival movement have called a meeting of all the various civic revival committees to be held at the Commercial club rooms on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization for civic improvement.

HOGS JUMP TO HIGH WATER MARK IN CHICAGO

Highest Price Paid Since 1882 Rules in That Market Today.

Chicago, June 14.—The highest June price for live hogs since 1882 was established today at the Union Stock Yards when best porkers sold at the long predicted figure of $8 per 100 pounds. With the exception of 1902 this is the highest price recorded for any months since the Cudahy corner in pork in 1893, when live hogs sold at $8.75 per hundred weight.

The prevailing high prices are due to unusually light receipts of live hogs this spring at all western packing centers, the extremely high price last year prompting many farmers to dispose of their stock rather than to pay exorbitant prices for feed stuff. Hogs at the nine leading markets of the country were 29,000 head. As a result of the scarcity of hogs the price of provisions is the highest in many years.

A VARIETY OF DISCUSSIONS.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 14.—Children, law breakers, families and neighborhoods, immigrants and state supervision and administration, were the topics scheduled for discussion at today's session of the conference of charities and corrections. Frank E. Wade, member of the state probation commission of Buffalo, was the first speaker in the section devoted to law breakers.

AN UNKNOWN MAN DROWNS IN RIVER

MAN'S IDENTITY YET A MYSTERY

His Belongings Afford Little Clue Upon Which Officers Can Work.

The remains of an unknown man who had met death by drowning were dragged from the St. Mary's river at the foot of Harrison street at 8 o'clock this morning. Early identification of the dead man proved erroneous, and the remains lie at the Schone morgue while officers are engaged in an attempt to solve the mystery surrounding his identity. The body bore no marks of violence and it was apparently a case of simple drowning.

Discovery of the dead body in the stream was made by Fred Sovine, who conducts a feed yard at the foot of Harrison street, and who chanced to glance into the river and saw what he at first presumed to be the body of a dog lying close to the south bank of the river. With the aid of a pole the object was probed; it turned in the water and the face of the dead man came into view. The department was at once notified, but the river bank at that point is so precipitous as a result of ashes that have been dumped there that it is almost impossible to descend.

Lowered a Ladder.

Finally a ladder was lowered along the bank and down it climbed one member of the rescue party, who tied a rope about the body of the dead man. In this manner the body was dragged from the water upon the ladder, which was then brought up on the bank with its lifeless burden and the remains were taken to the Schone morgue.

Half a dozen men, including John Fletter, landlord of the place, soon identified the body as that of Thomas Otis, a mason tender, who has rooms in the "Bee Hive" on West Superior street. Members of the Hod Carriers' union were also of the opinion that the body was that of Otis. Identification was thus supposed to be complete until Walter Daugherty, a mason contractor, arrived at the morgue. He promptly declared that Otis was alive and well and was at that moment working for him at a house on Crescent avenue, in Forest park. This was soon verified, and Otis himself smilingly refuted the supposition that he had been drowned, leaving the identity of the dead man still a mystery.

Purse Was Penniless.

The dead man was apparently about 50 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height and weighed about 150 pounds. He wore a sandy mustache, his dark hair is mixed with gray, the eyes are blue and the upper front teeth are missing. The clothing was a gray mixed suit of fair quality. Shoes were good and the standing linen collar worn bore the mark "P." In the pockets of the clothing were a knife, a purse containing no money, a rain check from Sunday's base ball game and a scrap of paper upon which was written in pencil, "L. J. Byers, Coldwater, Mich."

It is not believed the body was in the river more than twelve hours.

There is a belief in some quarters that the man is a stranger who may perhaps have come to Fort Wayne on an excursion Sunday morning and accidentally tumbled into the river Sunday evening. An effort is being made to get into communication with Coldwater, Mich., to ascertain if the dead man can have any connection with the name found upon the slip of paper in his pocket. Dozens of people have viewed the remains during the day without being able to throw any light upon the identity of the dead man.

ARE MAKING READY TO KEEP DEKALB COUNTY DRY

Remonstrances Expiring and Anti League Will Call Election.

As the time for the expiration of the saloon remonstrances filed in Dekalb count within the past two years draws near, the Anti-Saloon league is making preparations for the calling of an option election in the hope that that county will be kept in the dry list. N. C. Shirey, the Fort Wayne district superintendent, spent several days last week aiding in the preliminary organizing. He says that the election will be called probably within a month.

The league officials do not entertain much doubt as to the way in which Auburn will vote but they say conditions are different in Garrett. There business has been poor for some time with the result that many people are dissatisfied. When the remonstrance was filed in Garrett the figures were based on the last previous city election at which the vote was very light so that the number of signers on the remonstrances really did not represent a majority. The league is to effect a thorough organization in the county, however, and hope by diligent effort to overcome any disadvantage that may be met.

GAMBLERS SEEK THE RETURN OF THE TABLES

The State Turns Down All Offer of Compromise —The Courts.

The new return of the sheriff on the mandamus proceedings instituted by parties interested in recovering the gambling paraphernalia claimed by Eugene Jamison after it had been captured in a rail was made late this afternoon and the matter was up for hearing.

In the meantime the owners of the outfit had renewed their offers of a compromise, but State's Attorney A. E. Thomas steadfastly refused to listen, as he has proceeded so far in the matter that he now desires a test of the law. He stated that if gambling tools can be obtained on such flimsy pretexts as have been advanced in this case it is high time it is being made known so that if the law is wrong it can be adjusted.

It is possible that time may be granted on the return as the prosecutor has a busy time ahead of him and the final disposition may be delayed by agreement among the attorneys.

Husband Asks a Decree.

James Hadsell filed a cross-complaint in the superior court today in answer to the suit filed by his wife in which she asks a divorce, and he alleges that in addition to being cross and surly and complaining continually that he did not make enough money to support her properly she received the attentions of a married man whose wife got a divorce from him. He asks a decree. Emrick & Emrick filed the complaint.

Notes of the Courts.

Ethel D. Murphy has filed suit in the superior court asking a divorce from Maurice Murphy. She charges they were married in October, 1903, and that in May of the following year he abandoned her and has since made no provision for her support. Leonard and Townsend filed the suit.

George Johnston was given the right in the circuit court to change his name to Edward O'Keefe. He stated that he had been reared by Patrick O'Keefe and he wanted to use the name of his benefactor.

William Franklin Williams, who formerly conducted the Home restaurant, has sued Daniel Clemons for $600, alleging the amount is due him for wages. Emrick & Emrick filed the suit.

NO RECORD-BREAKING LIKELY.

First Official Trials Over Crown Point Auto Course Made.

Crownpoint, Ind., June 14.—As a result of the first official trials over the Crownpoint-Lowell course today it is predicted by veteran drivers that no new motor records will be established during the "Western Vanderbilt," June 18 and 19. Louis Strang, of the Dick Camp, after a couple of turns around the twenty-three miles course, said that the 51 miles an hour for the light cars in the Indiana trophy race on the first day and 57 miles for the big cars on the next day would hardly be exceeded. This is due to the fact that the thirty entrants are strictly stock cars and that owing to almost continuous rains it has been impossible to put the roadbed in first class condition. A light cold rain kept most of the drivers off the track at the first practice today between four and six a. m. There were but eight cars on the course. The time over the 28 miles ran from 24½ to 27 minutes. This was considered an excellent showing considering the rain.

JUNE ISSUE OF THE CALDRON.

The June issue of the High school senior class magazine, The Caldron, made its appearance today. It is a handsome number, containing pictures of the graduating class.

used in New York or at the summer resorts.

Mr. Nicoll wanted to know if the witness ever rode horseback. She said she had. She was shown a picture of a young woman astride a white horse, with large show tents looming up in the background. The witness was asked if it was not a picture of herself. She couldn't remember it.

Wasn't Quite Certain.

"Isn't that your picture taken in Manchester, Eng., when you were with the Cody (Buffalo Bill) show?" asked Mr. Nicoll. The witness could not recall, but would not swear that it was not her picture.

Mrs. Gould was asked if she remembered employing and discharging 166 servants at Castle Gould during the year 1905. She could not remember definitely.

During Mr. Nicoll's examination of Mrs. Gould with regard to her acquaintance with Dustin Farnam, he questioned her as to her visit with Farnam and a party to a hotel in Atlantic City one Sunday in September in 1906. She was shown what purported to be a diagram of the suite occupied by the party, but was unable to designate which of the five rooms she occupied.

Mr. Gould was in court all during her testimony, but she refrained from glancing in his direction.

Hawley Affair Brought Up.

Following the recess Wm. C. McLaughlin, formerly the head of the New York detective bureau, whose attempt to aid Howard Gould in proving that Katherine Clemmons Gould had been married to William C. Woodward, alias "Big" Hawley, resulted in his retirement from the force, was called as a witness. McLaughlin told about sending for "Big" Hawley and meeting him in Mr. Nicoll's offices. Hawley told the witness, he said, that he (Hawley) had used Mrs. Gould as a decoy on trans-Atlantic steamers to inveigle men into card games. (This was after her marriage to Mr. Gould.) The witness said he asked Hawley if he had married Mrs. Gould and Hawley would neither deny or affirm it at that time.

SHOT WHILE MAKING ARREST.

Town Marshal of Gary, Ill., Slain from Ambush.

Chicago, June 14.—Patrick Crowley, marshal of the village of Gary, Ill., a quarry town near Chicago, was shot and killed last night while arresting Modest Lenzi, formerly mayor of the village and for years known as the "King of Gary."

Crowley had been village marshal only two weeks, having formerly been on the police force in Kansas City. Crowley was taking Lenzi to the lock up when a man stepped from behind a tree and shot him in the head. The murderer escaped.

WILL MEET TO ORGANIZE.

Stockholders in Old Fort Knitting Company Will Gather Thursday.

The stockholders in the new Old Fort Knitting company, the company that is to be removed here from Decatur, Ill., will be asked to meet in the Commercial club rooms on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in order that a permanent organization may be effected. The officers and directors will be chosen and active steps taken to remove the factory to Fort Wayne. The $100,000 stock for the company has been practically subscribed.

ODD FELLOWS MEMORIAL.

Annual Service Is Held at First M. E. Church.

Rev. J. K. Cecil, of the First M. E. church, delivered the annual memorial sermon to Odd Fellows at his church Sunday morning, the attendance embracing the membership of all the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges in the city. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers by the fraternity, and a quartet furnished special music for the occasion. The attendance was very large.

J. W. Flick, 2832 Thompson avenue, was operated upon Saturday evening at St. Joseph's hospital and his condition today shows considerable improvement.

Man Who Was Beheaded and Dismembered by a Rival in Love.

Samuel Berwin, a Russian tailor, aged 22, was beheaded and dismembered by persons unknown to the police. The murder is believed to have resulted from the jealousy of a rival in love.

CARDINAL ANDRIEU IS ACCLAIMED BY CROWD

Striking Scene Witnessed When He Appears in Bordeaux Court.

Bordeaux, June 14.—When Cardinal Andrieu appeared in court today to answer the summons of the judge charging him with having incited a breach of the laws by the allocution which he pronounced at the cathedral on the occasion of his enthronment, he was acclaimed by an immense crowd of Catholics. The cardinal told the judge that he came as an act of courtesy, not because he recognized the competency of the court. He said he had spoken as a bishop and that he was answerable only to his conscience, the pope and God, and declared that he assumed full responsibility for his words, in which he maintained the right to distrust the laws of the republic when these were prejudicial to the free exercise of religion.

When the cardinal emerged from court he was again acclaimed. Women fell on their knees and kissed his ring, while the Young Catholics cheered.

SAD CASE OF JUDGE SMITH.

Once Respected Chicago Jurist in Prison for Bad Banking.

Chicago, June 14.—The long fight of former Judge Abner Smith to escape the penitentiary ended today when Sheriff Strassheim, of Cook county, was informed by a telegram from Warden Murphy, of the Joliet penitentiary, that Smith had surrendered himself at the prison.

Abner Smith, for years a respected judge of the circuit court, was convicted of violation of the banking laws while he was president of the now defunct Bank of America. It was charged that he had profited greatly by his manipulation of the funds of the bank.

Smith appeared with his brother before Warden Murphy, but the warden refused to accept him without a mittimus. Smith concluded to await the sheriff's arrival with the necessary papers.

POPULAR MISTAKES ABOUT CRIMINALS.

The general idea about criminals is that they are the worst men living. As a matter of fact, more than half the criminals in our states' prisons are one-crime men. They have never committed but one crime, and most of them will never commit another. They are no worse than multitudes of men outside prisons who have broken the moral laws of God, and it is cruel for society to continue to brand this particular class of men as "felons," the men who have made one mistake. The prisons of the country should be given some other name, and the public trained to think of the penal institutions as remedial rather than punitive agents, while the men confined in them should think of themselves not as wholly lost to society, but as being helped by civilization into a better life. The treatment of criminals has undergone a vast change since the time of Richard Fox and Elizabeth Frye. It will undergo other changes in the years to come as great as those which have already taken place.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. Robert O. Orff left for Buffalo, N. Y., last night on account of the death of Mrs. Orff's father, Henry E. Ducker, which occurred very suddenly Sunday morning at the home in Lake George, N. Y.

Vergil A. Geiger, the editor of the Churubusco Truth, who has been spending some time at the Hope hospital in an effort to better his health, returned to his home yesterday.

Capt. J. B. Adams, of Almon, Portage county, Wis., is in the city on a visit to the Doswell families, whom he knew in Wisconsin many years ago. He is at present the guest of Harry Doswell, superintendent of Lindenwood cemetery.

A unique social will be given tomorrow evening in the parlors of Westminster church at 8 o'clock to which all friends of the church are invited to attend and bring a pair of scissors with them.

Sunday visitors of the Wolf & Dessauer Regulars (bowling team), now on an outing at Lake James, report an enjoyable time and fish for dinner. The team will spend the remainder of the week at the lake.

FLOWERS OF EAST AFRICA.

Clusters of Beautiful Yellow Blossoms Which Resemble Altheas.

(W. S. Rainsford in the Outlook for June.)

It is said that there is but little color among the trees and shrubs of this part of Africa. But color's variety makes its presence all the more welcome when you light on it. Here, as I ride, is color indeed. It brushes against my mule, raises its sweetness to my face, hangs on all sides ready to be plucked and appreciated. The way winds among scattered thickets of straggling gray bush—not to be particularly noticed till its flowering time comes (which seems to last many weeks); but then stop and examine what it offers you. In rows of from three to eight, on the end of each bending stem, the beautiful yellow blossoms, almost four inches long, hang. At a few feet distance they look like Marechal Niel roses, half-blown, growing on a gray althea bush; and, indeed, if you imagine an althea flower, four inches long and pendant, with five petals that overlap each other (I have no botany book with me, I am ashamed to say—I have forgotten how many petals the althea has) and are so thick and rich in color that the flower is solid and heavy as it hangs, not spread out flat along the parent stem as the pretty althea, but bravely swinging free—you would have some idea of my nameless yellow African beauty. The pistil is of a rich crimson, and so waxen that even in blotting paper all beauty is crushed and lost if you try to dry it. The calyx is soft green. The petals are a brilliant scarlet at the base. Like many another beautiful and interesting thing in the land, this flower, I fear, is nameless. When some one does give it a name, I plead for something better than an inch or more of hyphenated Latin.

There is, too, an orchid that hangs out now and then a flaming spot of crimson from its background and anchorage of cactus brush. The flowers are closely bunched together, about an inch and a half in length, little frills of yellow on their lip. A pretty orchid that shrivels and falls when you touch it, but, left alone, seems somehow to get a good living, even alongside the warlike cactus.

CHILDREN FARM ON A CITY LOT.

Little Patients in Tuberculosis Day Camp Cultivate a Truck Garden.

(From the New York Herald.)

A truck garden, occupying a plot fifty feet square, was formerly opened in the grounds of Bellevue Tuesday for the benefit of children who are patients at the tuberculosis day camp at the hospital. The day camp occupied by the children is on the old ferryboat Southfield, which is moored in the East river at the foot of the hospital grounds.

The truck garden was installed with the idea of getting the children more in the open, where they might have light work to interest them. Its inauguration is chiefly due to the efforts of Mrs. Henry Parsons, president of the International Children's School Farm league, assisted by her son, Henry Griscom Parsons.

The grounds of Bellevue fronting on East river have been a barren waste. The trucking plot was fertilized and drained and made fit for cultivation. The plot has been divided into small parcels for the cultivation of vegetables and flowers. The work will be under the eye of Dr. James Alexander Miller, director of the tuberculosis clinics at Bellevue, and the International league will provide a teacher to instruct the children in gardening.

Work on the gardening was begun Tuesday, and the youngsters took great interest in the planting. To heighten their interest it has been decided to let them take home with them vegetables raised. Most of the children come from the lower east side, and the only experience they have had with cultivating plants was in window boxes.

POWER BOATS ON RETURN TRIP.

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 14.—The power boats Heather, Ilys, and Insep started from the Farewell buoy at nine minutes past ten this morning on the return race to New York. As they disappeared from view the Ilys was in the lead.

FIVE MINUTES IN JAIL.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—William Dollar, of Iowa, stole three chickens last April from a hen-coop in Berwyn, and today was sentenced to five minutes in the county jail. Judge McSurley imposed the short term sentence because Dollar has been in jail since April 21, awaiting trial.

NEW CASES REPORTED.

Raymond E. Noble, of 78 Forest avenue, is suffering fro msmallpox and the case was reported to the health department this morning.

WAS A RESIDENT OF FORT WAYNE FOR MANY YEARS

Mrs. Magdeline Ball Dies at Hastings, Pa.—Other Mortuary Matters.

Mrs. Magdaline Ball, who was for many years a resident of Fort Wayne, died Sunday at the residence of her son, Rev. Father Germaine Ball, at Hastings, Pa., where she had been making her home. Mrs. Ball was about 65 years of age, and left Fort Wayne three years ago to live with her son, who is pastor of a Catholic church at Hastings.

Mrs. Ball was born in Bavaria, but came to Fort Wayne about fifty years ago. In this city she married and reared her family, of which the son is now the only surviving member. For many years Mrs. Ball conducted a grocery store at Broadway and Main street, and she was widely and favorably known, a devoted member of St. Paul's Catholic church, and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all who knew her.

Surviving relatives in addition to the son include a brother, Ulrich Deininger, of Decatur, and three sisters—Mrs. William Newman, 1406 Lillie street; Mrs. Ferdinand Buehler, of Utica, N. Y., and Mrs. Pauline Klix, of New York city. The remains will be brought to Fort Wayne for funeral service and interment, arriving early Wednesday morning. The remains will be removed to the residence of Ulrich J. Loos, a nephew, 2133 South Lafayette street, where friends may view them, and the funeral service will be held from St. Paul's Catholic church at 10 o'clock.

LIGHT.

Louis C. Light, 41 years of age, formerly employed as a clerk in local establishments, dropped dead while seated in a rocking chair Sunday morning at home of his brother-in-law, Charles Troxell, 1330 Wells street, where he had made his home for the past three years. Death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Light had been in failing health for several years, but arose Sunday morning apparently feeling quite well, ate his breakfast with a relish and a little later was stricken suddenly and expired before a physician could reach his side. Mr. Light is survived by his father, John Light, of this city, and two brothers and a sister—William J. Light, Fort Wayne; Edward S. Light, Lima, O., and Miss Hattie E. Light, Fort Wayne. The deceased was a member of the St. Joe Athletic club and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Mr. Light was born at Traverse City, Mich., but he spent his early life at Lafayette, coming to Fort Wayne nineteen years ago. Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Rev. W. P. Herron officiating.

WISE.

Viola Wise, aged 19 years, 9 months and 8 days, died at 11:45 o'clock this morning at the Lutheran hospital from appendicitis, for the relief of which she had undergone an operation nearly two weeks ago.

The deceased was a daughter of Mrs. Mary Wise and had been making her home with an uncle, Louis W. Jones, 3220 Fairfield avenue. Other relatives include two brothers, Charles and Ernest Wise. Miss Wise was a member of Simpson M. E. church.

NOT BUILDING A CHALLENGER.

Lipton Will Not Try for Cup Under Present Conditions.

Belfast, June 14.—Sir Thomas Lipton, in an interview today made it clear that he had no intention of competing for the America's cup under the present conditions. "No man will build a boat to sail under conditions that are or should be past," Sir Thomas said. "I am always willing to give the Americans the advantage of their own universal rule under which they have had experience in building and sailing and I am ready to challenge there, but I will not try again under the rule of fifty-six years ago. If I challenged under the international rules governing Europe they would say I had a 'pull.'"

ANGOLA STUDENT IS VERY LOW AND WILL DIE

Deep Skull Fracture Sustained When Train Hit Him at Waterloo.

With the operation performed Sunday morning in an effort to remove the bone pressure upon the brain apparently without avail, Earl Eberst, the Fremont, O., youth who was struck by a Lake Shore train at Waterloo Saturday night is in a very low and critical condition at St. Josephs hospital and his doctors say he can scarcely survive till tonight. The man has a deep skull fracture over his right eye and has been in an unconscious condition since the hour of the accident. His parents, well-known people in their home city, are at the bed-side of their son.

Eberst had been attending the Tri-State school at Angola and with several other friends had gone on Saturday evening to bid those departing for their homes good-bye and to welcome those who were arriving for the summer session of the school. He was standing along the edge of the platform near the track talking to a friend named Hinckley when the Lake Shore fast passenger No. 16, eastbound, approached and the engine struck him above the right eye. His condition was at once seen to be serious and he was accompanied to the hospital here by the company physician and several friends. An operation was performed Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the hope that the broken pieces of bone could be removed, but the attempt bettered the injured man but little.

The accident occurred in the early evening before the eyes of many of his friends.

ANGLER HAS GHASTLY CATCH.

Toledo, Ohio, June 14.—While fishing in the Maumee river off the docks of the Toledo Ship Building company today, Peter Rhoars drew to the surface the body of an unidentified man, which had caught on his hook. The body had been in the water a week and shows signs of violence.

TEACHER WAS ACQUITTED.

A teacher in the Clay school was acquitted before Justice Grabner this morning on the charge of having struck Claude Matthews, a pupil, and caused a swelling of his lip. Dr. Havice stated that the lip was diseased and that had caused the swelling and the teacher said she had not struck the boy, but had simply placed his hand over his mouth to keep him from talking and Prosecutor Thomas requested that she be acquitted.

NOT ENOUGH TICKETS.

Parents of High School Graduates Are Complaining.

Owing to the large size of the graduating class from the High school this year, but ten tickets to the commencement exercises in the High school auditorium on Thursday evening when Prof. Stanley Coulter will speak can be allotted to each one and the parents of a number are complaining, urging that the school board should provide a more capacious hall for such an occasion. With some of the families the ten tickets will hardly suffice. There are sixty-three class members this year and the school board and the council also share in the distribution.

BANK CLERKS HAVE MUCH FUN AT THE PARK

Many Others Enjoy First Annual Outing With Them on Saturday.

Many are there who will subscribe to the statement that Fort Wayne's bank clerks are a fine body of men, men who not only enjoy a good time themselves but who are better pleased a hundredfold in affording others pleasure. And that is why the first annual outing of the Fort Wayne chapter of the American Institute of Banking at Robison park on Saturday evening was such a grand success, the guests, including some wives but many more sweethearts, being unable to express their true appreciation of the attention given them and the clerks happy because that was the condition.

Around the banquet tables on the first floor of the pavilion over a hundred spent several hours in consuming the sumptuous feast laid before them and in receiving the words of five good talkers. The menu card, with the classics and musical selections offered by the park orchestra and the Dudley Buck quartet listed as the resources and four courses of things to eat as the liabilities, was one of the most unique ever offered in Fort Wayne. Will H. Meyers, the new president, officiated as toastmaster after the ice cream and strawberries had vanished and he caused much merriment with his friendly thrusts at those who had been asked to talk and others.

Marion B. Johnson, of the Citizens' Trust company, was the first to speak, his subject being "Patriotism of Bank Clerks" and he emphasized how much a smile and cheery countenance combined with courtesy and graciousness will do for the man behind the money counter. Judge Owen N. Heaton, president of that trust company, made a few very fitting remarks in the absence of W. H. Coffinberry, of Garrett, in which he declared that the bank clerks are oftentimes much more of an asset to the bank than the officers and directors, though the latter are made to pace the floor on numerous occasions. To George A. Bittler, of the Nuttman National bank, fell the task of toasting the "Ladies" and he did it in great fashion. The fair sex among the guests were anxiously anticipating the "Ladies" talk and their anticipation was shown not to have been in vain. Edward N. Detzer, of the First National bank, the first president of the organization, and the man whose untiring efforts accomplished much in the founding of the clerks' organization, spoke on "The Future of the Chapter," detailing some of the features of the body's work and telling what it is hoped can be accomplished within the next year.

A special performance at the park theater was given for the party after which several hours were spent in dancing at the pavilion.

Women as a Rule Have Splendid Business Judgment

And Many a Man Has Laid the Foundation of, or Built a Fortune by Heeding His Wife's Advice

That's because women as a rule are more conservative than men and never make an investment until they thoroughly investigate and are very sure that the investment will bring good returns. We've had just such women investigate this co-operative investment feature, and in consequence a great number of Allen County's prominent women are stockholders in this store. As one bright woman who had a small family said Friday: "The more I studied the proposition the more I knew I just couldn't afford to be without some shares of the stock, for the 5 per cent discount and the 7 per cent dividend will pay for my stock in one year or sooner, and I'll still have my stock, which I know will be at a premimum when all the stock is sold. Why, it's the best thing I every heard of. My husband and I talked the matter over one evening, and now I'm glad to say that I'm interested in the People's Store as a shareholder and I'll certainly advise my friends to enlist before all the stock is sold."

Now, who can say that this woman hasn't forethought? Who can say that she isn't a wise business woman? But she isn't the only one so enthusiastic over this proposition—there are many others and many of ther husbands and some of their children who are just as enthusiastic, because they know they have placed their money where it earns more than any other way they can invest it.

Remember, this stock pays 7 per cent net. No assessments. Dividend is paid annually, discounts semi-annually.

Come in and get all the information you may desire. We will be pleased to talk it over with you.

IN BEHALF OF LABOR LEADERS.

Marble Cutters Protest Against Jailing of Gompers.

Washington, June 14.—Resolutions protesting against the sentencing for contempt of court of President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, were adopted by the International Association of Marble Workers, which has just concluded its annual session in this city.

General President Walter V. Price and General Secretary-Treasurer Stephen Hogan, of New York city, were re-elected without opposition. James B Carden, of Chicago, was elected general vice president.

The following were elected to the general executive council: J. A. Rutherford, of San Francisco; M. H. Hill, of Marble, Col.; John Healey, of Boston; Josiah Widdicome, St. Louis, and John Moore, New York city. Chicago was selected as the place for next year's convention.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE BEST ON THE MARKET.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and find it to be the best on the market," says E. W. Tardy, editor of the Sentinel, Gainsboro, Tenn. "Our baby had several colds the past winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always gave it relief at once and cured it in a short time. I always recommend it when opportunity presents itself." PUT TO DEATH IN CHAIR.

William Scott, Slayer of Stepmother, Electrocuted.

Auburn, N. Y., June 14.—William Scott was put to death by electricity in Auburn prison this morning for the murder of his stepmother, Mrs. Delia M. Scott, near Shenango Lake, a short distance from Norwich, in October of 1907. Two shocks were used to kill. The first one was of 1,840 volts at 8½ amperes and lasted one minute and three seconds and the second one of full strength was on but ten seconds.

Scott embraced the Catholic faith five weeks ago, was baptized a week ago and received the last rites of the Catholic church from the Catholic chaplain, Rev. J. N. Hickey, just before he was electrocuted.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE CIVIC REVIVAL.

A meeting is to be held tomorrow night for the purpose of giving permanent form to the various committees which had executive part in the work of the recent civic revival. The meeting should be well attended and marked by a lively spirit of interest. If the revival is to come to anything the effort of which it was supposedly but an inauguration must be continuous. So far nothing has been accomplished for civic betterments save a discussion of possibilities. The logical next step must be an organization of permanent status and defined purpose. That is the object of the meeting to be held tomorrow night.

Ways and means must be discussed for in this is embraced the most vital part, the very life even, of the whole scheme of betterments. There are likely to arise few serious differences as to what may be in general desirable and what details of the scheme of physical improvements—that which will entail expenditure of money—may most practicably be first essayed. Mr. Robinson, the landscape expert, who has come this week to take stock of our natural advantages and estimate their possibilities for betterment, will provide the community with a definite program. But the ways and means—there's the problem.

Developments of the next few days in the civic revival movement will determine whether we have been revived or merely having pretty dreams.

Spain now seeks to revive her claim for the old Cuban debt. This obligation, if it is an obligation, the new republic is about as able to pay or fitted to guarantee as one of the Central American republics. In round numbers the claim presents a total of $400,000,000. The matter of this claim was in no wise made a part of the peace treaty between the United States and Spain at the conclusion of the war for liberation of Cuba, though it had some discussion in the Paris negotiations. Just how Cuba can be held liable, when the war was neither of her initiation nor making and the terms of peace were something in which she had no voice or part, is rather obscure. If the Spanish claims rest anywhere it must be against the United States. By this government war was declared and prosecuted and by terms dictated by our commissioners Spanish sovereignty in Cuba was extinguished. However, Spain may need the money and find comfort in trying to lay hold of some notwithstanding the prospect of getting it through pressing of the old Cuban debt claim is a little less hopeful than the chance of drawing the big prize in a lottery. Then, too, Spain may desire to have the claim formally disposed of, which is a much better reason.

The grand jury at Indianapolis will make an inquiry into the shooting of a man in an automobile by a policeman in a pursuing car. It is so far determined that the shot was fired either by the chief of police or upon his order and the capital city is aroused to a considerable pitch of feeling over the incident. The removal of the chief of police has on many sides been demanded, and there is now some prospect that Mayor Bookwalter will yield to pressure and relieve the head of his police department of further duty. The shooting of Lawyer Samuel Dowden has served to call attention to the frequency with which the police resort to firearms in unwarranted instances. A reform in respect of this is demanded by public sentiment and appears likely to be secured. Meanwhile, the grand jury purposes to find out who actually fired the shot, whereupon the course of further proceedings will be made plainer. That no police officer has any right or authority to put a human life in jeopardy for a mere misdemeanor admits of no dispute and the Indianapolis incident will have value in thoroughly defining this fact.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth now wants only the consent of her husband to have the last requisite of a long voyage in a balloon; she has the cordial invitation of a man who has the balloon and the nerve for the responsibility. Theodore, the junior, made a balloon trip. Kermit is killing cheetahs and things in far-off Africa's clime, Archie and Quentin have performed various stunts becoming in precious strenuousness, father—well, none of them work at it like father. Nicholas should be willing; it is her right that he should be.

The time is at hand when the city, either by contract or by equipping itself with a plant, must make preparation for continuous repair of failing asphalt streets. The guarantee has expired and soon will expire on such an extensive mileage that repairs will become a serious municipal problem. Indeed, it already has become a serious problem. Preservation of many hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of street improvements depends upon prompt action.

The republican party was founded on the principle of protection, declared Senator Aldrich. Possibly; though history might venture a dispute. Pretty clear, however, that the republican is being confounded by the principle of protection.

First of August now speculated on as the earliest probable day of adjournment of congress. Almanac doubtless doesn't forecast 90 in the shade, which Uncle Joe Cannon some time ago thought might hasten matters.

ST. PETERSBURG HAS STRIKE.

Electricians and Car Meh of the Russian Capital Quit.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—A general strike of the electrical and car employes of St. Petersburg began today. The men demand an increase in pay and a different arrangement in shifts. The employers declare they will not concede either point. Although the demands are purely economic, the strike has a political basis and was arranged by the social democrats to test their strength.

The cab men have taken advantage of the situation to collect double fares. No disorders have occurred.

FIGHTING STEEL STOCKS.

Paris Newspapers in Campaign to Prevent Listing on Bourse.

Paris, June 14.—The delay in the final formalities of listing the common shares of the United States Steel corporation on the Paris stock exchange has afforded a certain section of the French press an opportunity to open a campaign against the measure and several vicious articles have appeared in L'Action and L'Authorite charging that the introduction of the securities is purely for speculative purposes and inimical to French steel interests. L'Authorite intimates that the matter will be the subject of an interpellation in parliament.

Morgan, Harjes & Co., deny that there has been any hitch in the proceedings and say they expect the negotiations to be consummated any day.

GRISCOM SAYS FAREWELL.

Retiring American Ambassador Received by Italian Ruler.

Rome, June 14.—Lloyd Griscom, the retiring American ambassador to Italy, was received in a farewell audience by King Victor Emanuel this morning and presented his letters of recall. His majesty again expressed his high appreciation of Mr. Griscom's services in the interest of the two countries, especially during the days following the Messina earthquake and voiced his regret at the ambassador's departure.

NOTESTINE DID NOT SELL BEER TO FRIEND

Simply Gave It Away But He Paid a Fine—The City Court.

Joe Notestine, the Harrison street saloonkeeper who was arrested Sunday by Patrolmen Dickson and Spillner and held to the city court this morning on the charge of selling intoxicating drink on Sunday, entered a plea of guilty and explained that his bartender gave a friend a bottle of beer to drink on his way to the country and that no sale was made.

The beer was being passed out of the side window and Notestine said the man to whom he gave it had paid a bill in his saloon on Saturday night and he wanted to treat him.

Judge Skelton assesed a fine of $25 and costs and it was paid but he warned Notestine he must keep his place closed tight on Sunday hereafter and that the best evidence of good faith would be for him and his bartender to stay away from the place altogether. Under the circumstances no jail sentence was imposed.

The Other Cases.

George White was fined $5 and costs and given sixty days in jail for stealing tools from Charles Minnich at the rolling mills. He was in jail one time for carrying a revolver and ordered out of town but refused to go.

Charles Sherwin, one of a crowd of young fellows who hang on the street corners and in doorways on Calhoun street and annoy women, was fined $5 and costs and the fine was suspended. He has given the officers a lot of trouble and when he was told to move on Saturday night he informed Patrolman Grimme that he would lose his job if he arrested him. The police will make some more arrests now that they know the judge is with them in their efforts to get rid of these young loafers who are becoming more objectionable.

Arthur Peterson demonstrated that with the saloons closed it is an easy matter to get drunk on cider. He was pickel p helplessly down and out and said he got drunk on cider purchased at a cider house on Fairfield avenue esterday. He was fined $5 and the fine suspended.

Peter McTigue, John Windell and Thomas Scanlon were fined $1 and costs for drunkenness and their fines suspended.

Patrick Maloney, William Hentzell and John Kennedy, all of whom said they got their Sunday drinks out of bottles procured on Saturday, were fined $1 each and all went to jail. George Wilson got an hour to leave the cit.

William Timmins, deaf and dumb train climber, was given an hour to get out. George Coe's plain drunk, continued until tomorrow morning.

No. 133

A Different Sort of Experimen...

A new set of facts invites our attention.

These have not to do with the invasion of a competitive lighting field, wh... there was no possibility of success.

These facts have to do with a non-competitive lighting field involving pu... streets and other public property.

There was no invasion of the rights of private citizens in Fort Wayne's un... taking to generate and distribute the light as a municipality it must either ... duce or buy.

To be sure, electrical lighting in any form is BUSINESS and NOT G... ERNMENT.

As we explained earlier in these talks cities are organized on political l... for GOVERNMENT alone and NOT AT ALL FOR BUSINESS.

Business' worst enemy is politics.

No one needs to know anything beyond the fact that a business has got ... politics to understand the degree of its demoralization.

Now, while every city has necessarily to do certain business of a limited ... ture, it has always been understood and agreed that because of the fact that ... city is governmental and not a business organization all its transaction of pu... business affairs should be surrounded by an amount of red tape and of safety ... vices in the way of bonds for security that would not be feasible or demande... progressive business establishments.

Despite all precautions, however, the average city's business methods ar... best barely tolerable and at worst a despair.

Sometimes the accounts can be audited; sometimes they cannot; someti... the cash ledger cannot be found for a series of years—you recall the case o... nearby city noted in these talk—and sometimes an official finds it convenient to... stroy records, as recent events will bear witness.

So it has not been found generally true that American cities are calculate... make brilliant records in business, for the obvious reason that officials are no... a rule, chosen from business, but from political or governmental considerations.

As a result, the tendency among our older and more enlightened cities—w... they are not already held in the grasp of a corrupt political organization and g... over to plunder by graft—is away from projects which demand careful busi... foresight, attention and management.

In other words the engaging in a business enterprise that can be avo... without serious detriment to the community, is against, rather than in a... with the present-day spirit of civic progress.

So, while Fort Wayne merely took what other cities of more experience ... of wider information avoided when it undertook the lighting of the streets b... own plant, it plainly was well within its legitimate rights as a city.

There was no bad faith towards any of its citizens; there was no widesp... injustice to and among City taxpayers, as in the case of commercial lighting.

It was merely a PIECE OF RETROGRESSION in City government, as sh... by the trend of enlightened civic policies in American cities generally.

We went into business when we did NOT need to.

The SERIOUS MISTAKES in this matter lay in quite another direction.

Read our next talk.

MANY FROM HERE ATTENDED.

Revs. Hahn and Moll Preach at Lutheran Gathering at Indianapols.

The special Lake Erie and Western train to Indianapolis yesterday morning carried a number of Fort Wayne people who attended the twenty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the Lutheran Evangelical Orphan society of the German Evangelical Lutheran Orphan home. German services were held both morning and afternoon in a big tent in the rear of the home. Rev. R. W. Moll preaching at the former service and Rev. Theodore Hahn at the latter. Both are Fort Wayne men.

There was a total attendance of 5,000 at the occasion from this state, Illinois and Ohio.

Services at Bethel Church.

Services at Bethel Evangelical church were well attended yesterday and at the Sunday school there were 220 and the offering was over seven dollars. Rev. Rarey preached an illustrated sermon from the text, "My Cup Runneth Over." Mrs. Chas. Mize sang a solo, "Forbid Them Not," after the following children were christened: Dortha Christine Moore, Marporie May Kendall, Edward William Carl Nietert, Edward Michael Louis Figel, Kenneth Burton Flaig. In the evening the Sunday school rendered a splendid program consisting of recitations, exercises, drills and several choruses. The church was not large enough to accommodate all the people that came. An offering was taken for missions and $21.25 was received. The entertainment was enjoyed by all and was a credit to the Sunday school and to Miss Cora Kurrle, the superintendent, and her committees.

LOFTY MISSION OF THE SCHOOLS

Education Should Develop Mentally, Morally and Spiritually.

REV. H. B. MASTER TO CLASS OF '09

High School Graduates Hear Annual Baccalaureate Sermon.

REV. HENRY B. MASTER,

Who Delivered Baccalaureate Sermon to Fort Wayne High School's Class of '09.

Declaring that the true mission of education was not merely the development of the mentality, but also the deepening of the moral and spiritual nature, Rev. Henry B. Master at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Fort Wayne high school.

The beautifully decorated church was densely packed by patrons and friends of the city schools, the graduating class of sixty-three members occupying places in the front portion of the auditorium. There was a special musical program by the church supplemented by Howard Swerlingen as soloist. Rev. Mr. Master chose as his text Proverbs 3: 13: "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom," and his sermon in full was as follows:

Wisdom is something more than knowledge. A man may know a very great deal and be very unwise in the use that he makes of his knowledge. Cowper in his poem called "The Task" says that

"Knowledge and wisdom far from being one
Have oft times no connection. Knowledge dwells
In heads replete with thoughts of other men;
Wisdom in minds attentive to their own.
Knowledge a mere unprofitable mass.
The mere materials with which wisdom builds.
'Till smoothed, and squared, and fitted to its place,
Does not encumber whom it seems t'enrich.
Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much;
Wisdom is humble that he knows no more."

What Wisdom Really Is.

'Wisdom therefore is the best and most practical use of the things we actually know.

"It is a distinction that brings before us the whole subject of the relation of learning to life. It is a topic men have never tired of debating. Yet it is as fresh and as fascinating in the dawn of the twentieth century as it was in the dawn of the sixteenth. The secret of its vitality is the fact that "life" and "learning" are terms which do not represent constant quantities. They implied one thing in the days of the Renaissance and they imply quite another at the present hour. Moreover in every age the problem is complicated by what we call the "personal equation." If knowledge were a stereotyped thing; if the methods of acquiring it or imparting it were not subject to change, if all students were quite uniform in their talents, and their interests, and their limitations, then the whole matter would be painfully simple and there would be no room for discussion. Then when a scholar went to school the result would be just as certain and just as easily predicted as it is when you bring together an acid and an alkali, knowing that out of the combination you are sure to obtain a salt. These, however, are precisely the reverse of the conditions that actually do prevail and how in any given case the learning will affect the life none can foresee or foretell. The process is quite like planting a field with grain. The seed may be perfect, the rain may fall and the sun may shine, but after all the quality and the quantity of the harvest is determined chiefly by the character of the soil. Just so the best equipped school can do comparatively little for some of its students, and the most meagerly equipped school can do a very great deal for some of its students. The variable co-efficient of any school's usefulness is the latent capacity of its scholars: their wilingness to work; their ability to receive instruction. In our loose way of speaking we sometimes talk about giving a boy or man an education. The truth is there is only one way in which an education can be secured and that is by taking it. A modern humorist has gone to the heart of the matter when he revised an old proverb so as to make it read: 'You can lead a boy to college but you can't make him think.'

Things It Ought to Do.

"There are three things, however, that an education ought to do, and which it can do, and it is through these we discover most clearly the relation of learning to life.

"First: First of all it ought to improve and cultivate the intellect. Nothing known to man is so wonderful as the human mind. The sensitized plate of the camera is not half so receptive of impressions from without as is the intellectual side of our nature. There is nothing that improves more rapidly through cultivation and nothing that degenerates more quickly for the lack of it. Marvellous it is to remember that all the eye can see is but the creation, the result of the activity of some mind—human or divine. The genesis of every telegraph instrument that is today ticking its messages across the continent was an invisible thought in the mind of the inventor Morse. The telephone that will carry the sound of your voice for hundreds of miles over high mountains and across deep rivers was once simply a dream in the mind of Alexander Graham Bell. That splendid building in which some of you here today have studied during the past four years was first of all a vision in the mind of the architect who planned it—a vision that found expression in stone, and metal, and wood. What gives any book its teaching value if it be not the thoughts that are imprisoned upon its pages?

Thought Led Them Onward.

"It was a man's thought, his daring thought of an unknown continent lying to the west that led to the discovery of the new world of America. It was a thought in the mind of Luther, aroused by the sight of those words, 'The just shall live by faith,' which led to the reformation and the religious and civil liberty that we enjoy today. Years ago a tall ungainly youth who had drifted down the Mississipi on a flat-boat visited New Orleans and saw there for the first time some of the unspeakable horrors of slavery. His heart sore within him, he turned to a companion and said: 'If I ever get a chance I will hit that thing hard.' It was the thought born in the mind of Abraham Lincoln on that memorable day which deepened into the conviction that the union could not exist half slave and half free, and led to the emancipation proclamation and the freedom of the negro race. Take this great, strange, beautiful, wonderful world with its heights and its hollows; its lofty mountains; its broad running rivers; its mighty oceans; or the heavens with their glowing stars and shining suns—and what are all these save the thoughts of God, their Creator, made visible before your eyes and mine? To study them, to know them, to learn their secrets, what is this but for the finite to think over again the thoughts of the infinite? Who can measure the power of thought? Who can overestimate its might?

One of the Great Aims.

"Rightly, therefore, does education concern itself first of all with the mind of man; storing it with facts and principles; cultivating it; strengthening it; drawing forth all its latent possibilities. One great aim of education is to teach a man to think. The difference between a large library correctly classified and carefully arranged, and one in which the volumes are simply piled together without any reference to their contents is the difference between a mind well trained and disciplined by study and the mind that has gathered its knowledge in no such orderly way. The difference between an army and a mob is discipline. The difference between merely knowing a multitude of facts and being able to marshal them at need and use them to the best advantage is—education. It may be that much which the student learns slips away from him. That is largely a question of retentiveness, a matter of memory. It is the effort to acquire certain facts, and principles, and truths, and in a certain way, that trains and develops the mind. If your education has taught you how to think, if it has increased your capacity for thought, it has done for you something that only an education can do. To that extent it has made you better and stronger men and women and fitted you for the battle which sooner or later each one of you must undertake.

As to the Moral Side.

"II. Then again an education ought to develop and cultivate the moral side of man's nature. If it does not do that it will not be a blessing but a bane. Certainly it will not have transmuted knowledge into wisdom. We must recognize that it is at this very point that men differ and disagree. Some there are who proclaim the education of the head as an all sufficient cure for those evils which afflict society. They assure us that to set forth the facts of physiology, and psychology, and sociology, is to insure moral conduct through what is called "enlightened self-interest." Others there are, however, who point to a land and to an age in which education was well nigh universal; a land and an age to which we still turn back when we seek the fairest specimens of literature, and sculpture, and architecture, and philosophy—and they bid us remember that there and then immorality was rampant. It is told of Demosthenes the orator that once when he was eager to confute an emissary of Philip, king of Macedon, he hit upon the following expedient. Speaking of his opponent he called him a 'misthotos,' a bribe taker, but knowing the character of his audience he intentionally mispronounced the word. Instantly and as with one voice the assembly cried out, correcting him and giving the true accent, 'misthotos.' Then Demosthenes turning to the man said, 'You see what they say of you!' Think of it! A popular audience so certain of the exact pronunciation of every word, and so sensitive to mispronunciation that instinctively they called attention to a mistake!

At High Water Mark.

"That is education at high water mark and yet we all know that such refinement of learning was quite compatible with the most glaring and wide-spread immorality. Certain it is that the most dangerous criminal is not the ignorant man, but the educated one. Nor can there be any question that some of the best educated men in the world have been the most immoral. Some of those most deeply interested in art and literature have been most vile in their own personal lives. If you have any acquaintance with the history of Florence under the rule of the Medici, particularly under Lorenzo the Magnificent, you will realize how true that statement is. It may be poor psychology, but it is perfectly understandable when we say there is nothing in the mere education of the head that necessarily improves the heart. The tree of knowledge is a tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Knowledge is power, but it is a power that may be employed in doing wrong as well as to the defense of the right.

Importance of Morality.

"Now consider the importance of morality when you remember that at the last analysis all our social and civic relations are moral ones. The relation of parent and child; of teacher and scholar; of citizen and state; of employer and employe; of buyer and seller; are all moral relations. What man is there, stranger, acquaintance, friend, relative, to whom you do not owe an obligation to deal fairly, honestly, gently, charitably? Morality is the salt that sweetens and purifies the life of every realm—social, industrial, political. Without it, widely and pervasively influential, a nation is bound to decline and any and every land becomes of 'hastening ills the prey.'

"If, therefore, education along purely intellectual lines does not necessarily involve improvement in morality, it is at least certain that it ought to do so, and that it may do so. Morality and education should be inseparable; should go hand in hand; should keep pace step by step. If the educated men and women of our country are not at the same time the most moral men and women, what hope have we of development of those traits that alone make a nation great? If those of our citizens who ought to be able to think most clearly do not or will not recognize the transcendent importance of the type of life whose key note is righteousness—to whom shall we go, to whom can we go for such recognition?

Burdens of the Present.

"Does it not seem that those of you who have begun your education, and who at graduation will have completed one stage of it, have resting upon you a burden which it is impossible to over-emphasize? You are about to take your places in the world and whether those places be positions of prominence or obscurity, some portion of the community in which you dwell will look up to you, and be influenced by you, and some few at least will find in what you do and say the moral standard unto which they must rise or to which they may descend. I am not trying to say that the future of the world, or even of this city, depends upon you, or upon any or all of us. Far be it from me to utter any such miserable baccalaureate nonsense as that. Within the hour Fort Wayne and all its citizens might be blotted off the face of the earth, and some of the world would never hear of the catastrophe; and some of the world would hear and care nothing about it; and some of the world would hear and care very greatly, but even among these latter the memory of the event would shortly became dim and indistinct. No man and no set of men are absolutely essential to the welfare of this or any other city. There was a time when Fort Wayne throve without us, and there will be a time when without us it will continue to thrive. It is a pathetic fact that there is no position in Fort Wayne which would not be promptly filled if the present incumbent were suddenly to disappear. The organization is always so much greater than the individual. Still we must remember that the stability of this universe is dependent upon the fidelity of the atoms that compose it. If you could show that a single one of those atoms had forsaken its proper place, had in some way shaken off the grip of those laws that control it, you would prove the actual commencement of universal anarchy and the disintegration of the physical universe. Precisely so the moral life of the world is just the aggregate of the lives of the individuals that compose it. You here today are young men and women, and it is glorious to be young, and because you have been offered the advantage of an education certain duties are therefore laid upon you which would not be so pressing if you were ignorant or untrained. This is only another way of reissuing the teaching of that old phrase, 'Noblesse oblige,' position, possession involves responsibility.

Ought to Develop Spiritually.

"Third. One further thing that an education ought to do is to cultivate and develop the spiritual side of man's nature. Your education has done a great deal for you if it has increased your mental power. It has done a much finer thing if it has given you a firmer grasp upon the great truth that righteousness exalteth a nation and therefore any individual. It will have done the finest possible thing if in some way it has led you into closer communion with and brought you nearer to God. All too many men are like some churches. The building seems complete when you first glance at it, but the longer you study it the more you are impressed with the fact that in some way it is incomplete. Then at last you realize that the architect's plans called for a tower, and while it was actually begun it was never finished. There is nothing in the outer form to suggest that aspiration, that reaching up toward the limitless and the infinite whither each soaring spire always carries the eye and ought to carry the thoughts. Imagine what that wonderful cathedral of Cologne would be like if its architect, Von Rile, had made no provision for those two towers that flank the entrance, or the builders had never carried out his plans! Are there not men whose lives impress you in the same way? Interesting, attractive, well-informed they undoubtedly are, and yet there is always that fatal sense of incompleteness, and when you try to explain it to yourself you realize that it is because they have never entered into communion with God, never bowed themselves before the Son of God with longing and with love.

Points to Heavenly Father.

"We must confess with sorrow that this highest and crowning grace of life is one which, like morality, education does not necessarily imply. Still, there is no valid reason why it should not, no reason why it may not. What branch of study can you take up which will not lead you into the presence of the Father in Heaven? If you take the wings of the morning and travel forth among the stars, following them in their course, learning their age and size and relative influence, what are you doing, as we noted a moment ago, but thinking God's thoughts after Him? Do not the heavens declare His glory? Why not let your astronomy be the revelation of it?

"Or if you investigate the earth in which you dwell, if you wander over its vine-clad hills, and its snow-covered mountains, in the age-old rocks that form them you ought to be able to track the footprints of the Creator. In the flowers of the field there is a message of the wisdom that gives them all their clothing of form, and color, and fragrance. In the flight of the fowls through the air there is at least a remembrance of Him who said that not one of them was forgotten before God. What object or what process in the natural world can you study without coming close to Him in whom you live, and move, and have your being?

Blinded to True Light.

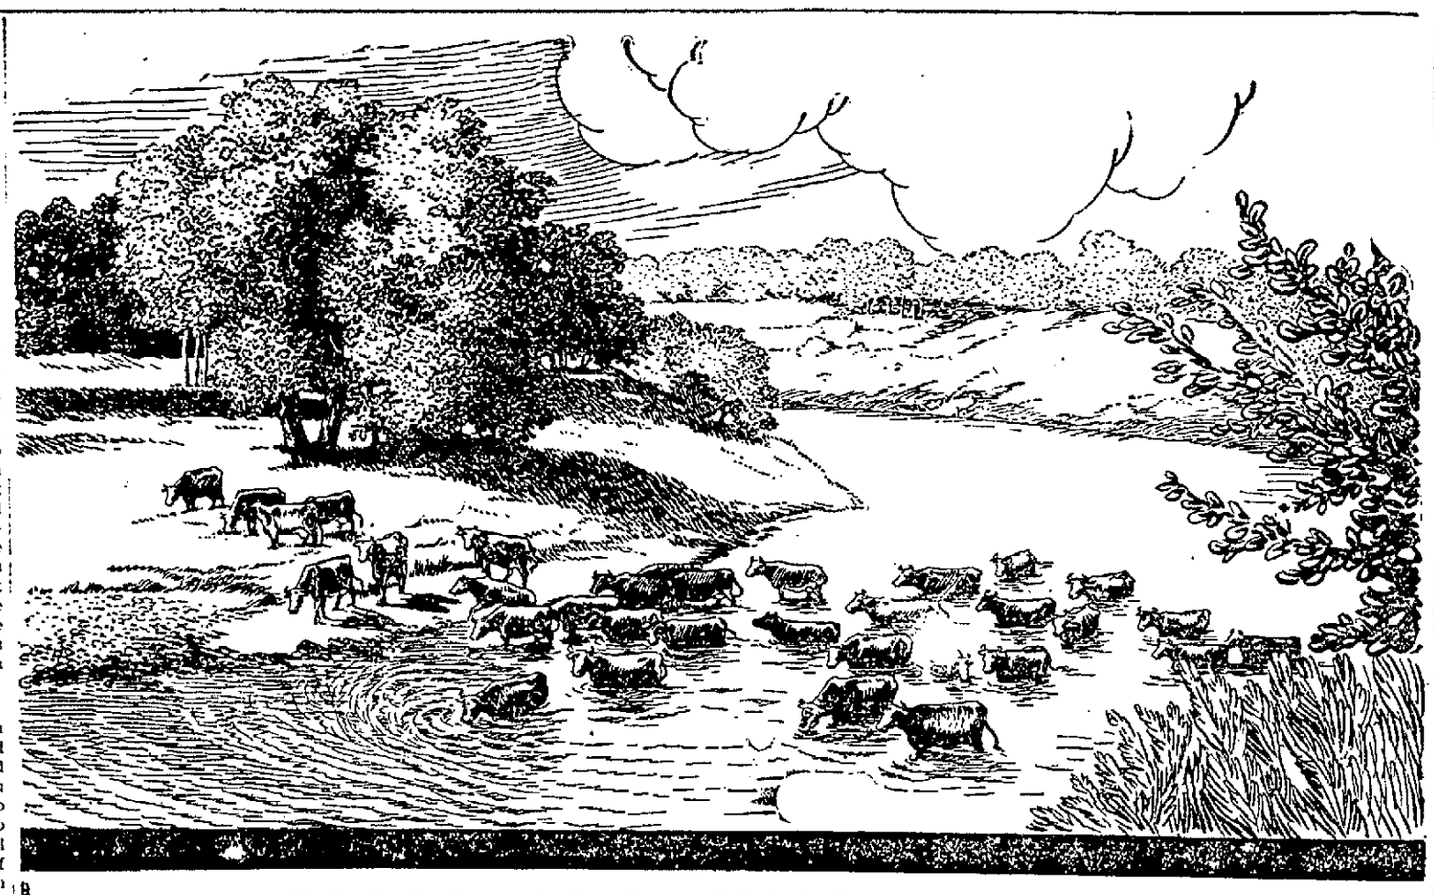
"The trouble is that revelling in an artificial light our eyes become blinded to that true light that lighteth every man who cometh into the world. See what I mean by that. If on some clear night you were to stand under one of the electric lamps of our city all around you its rays would fall. Every object would be plainly discerned and a book might even be read. But if you were to look upward the heaven would seem black and the stars shining there you would not see. You would have to go outside the range of artificial illumination if you wanted to gaze at the glories of the stellar universe. Now it is not as though education unfitted a man for that simple and personal trust in God that lie at the basis of all true religion. It is not as though a man had to cast away his knowledge in order to be religious. Faith in religion means exactly what it means in science, or commerce, or the class-room, or on the street. If the truths of religion are not susceptible of proof through personal experiment, how will you explain those words of Jesus, 'Come and see!' Nay, you have only to call the roll of the world's great scholars in order to discover that many of the best and noblest of them have been deeply religious men.

No Clash Between Them.

"That a man does not have to hold his religion in one hand and his learning in the other is proven by the experience of George Romanes. He had been a conventional believer in Christianity but the more he pursued his studies in biology the more firmly convinced he became that Christianity could not be true. Regretfully he gave up the beliefs he had been taught and a little later he wrote a book attacking the very foundations of the Christian faith. It was one of the keenest and most penetrating assaults ever made upon the truth. Now it happened that there was a certain missionary in Japan named Gulick, who was also a biologist, and who after long and patient research made some discoveries that were regarded by all scientific men as extremely important. Romanes himself was enthusiastic over this new contribution to the world's knowledge. Then he discovered that Gulick was a missionary. The fact was an immense surprise. He sat down and wrote: 'My dear sir, we are strangers, but on the ground of our common research, will you satisfy my questionings? How can you hold the scientific views you do, and still accept the teachings of Christianity?' And this answer came, 'I can do both because I apply the same principles of investigation and experiment to both. You know how I must have proceeded in the scientific field; I have done the same in the moral field—I look about and I see certain tendencies and effects underlying and forming human life—these must be accounted for. These tendencies and effects are moral; I must look for moral and religious causes sufficient to produce them, and I find, invariably, the best and highest result from Christianity. I can reach but one conclusion if I am true to scientific principles of investigation and experiment. May I urge you, my dear sir, to try, and test, and experiment for yourself?' Romanes did try and the result was the establishment of a far nobler faith in the fundamental truths of Christianity than he had ever known before. He afterwards wrote one of the finest and fullest vindications of the truth ever given to the world. That is what the highest scholarship, which is ever the humblest, ought to do for men, and that is what it can do.

"Members of the graduating class of the Fort Wayne high school, it will be a glorious thing if the education you have thus far received has brought you these three great gifts; if it has enriched the mental side of your nature; and given you a firmer grasp of the fundamental truths of morality; and brought you into closer communion with the Father who is in heaven. May God bless you and keep you and grant to all of you lives of service and of satisfaction."

A prisoner at the sessions had been duly convicted of theft, when it was seen, on "proving previous convictions," that he had actually been in prison at the time the theft was committed. "Why didn't you say so?" asked the judge of the prisoner angrily. "Your lordship, I was afraid of prejudicing the jury against me."



YOU ALL KNOW NOW

We doubt if there is a man, woman or child in the great district of which Fort Wayne is the center who does not know the genuine good quality and true merit of Every Day Evaporated Milk.

Our representatives are busy this week calling on the grocers and paying them the cash (5c each) for the coupons you gave in exchange for the free can of Every Day Evaporated Milk.

Of course you will now want to use Every Day Evaporated Milk right along, and we have made every arrangement to keep your grocer supplied with good fresh stocks. All you need do is to insist that he give you Every-Day Evaporated Milk, and no other. Never accept a substitute. He can get it for you any time.

Every-Day Evaporated Milk

is simply pure, unadulterated, full cream milk, produced under the most cleanly conditions in the largest and finest milk-evaporating plant in the world, under the direct supervision of the most skilled experts whose experience extends back to the originating of evaporated milk and who have ever been the most successful in the production of this particular article of food.

AT ALL GROCERS—5c AND 10c A CAN

You instantly notice the imported taste of Every Day Evaporated Milk and the fact that the "boiled" smell and taste so noticeable in other milks has been entirely eliminated.

Every Day Evaporated Milk costs the consumer no more than other kinds, but is worth more because it goes farther and contains more food substance. It tastes best, and it is best. It is always good and always ready. There is no waste on account of souring.

FOR COFFEE AND COCOA
use two or three teaspoonfuls Every Day Milk to the cup. Its advantage over cream is that you do not have to add so much liquid as to weaken the true coffee or cocoa flavor, and at the same time you have the delightful "creamy" taste so much desired.

A RELISHING DRINK
which refreshes and invigorates is prepared by adding to one part of Every Day Milk about two parts of hot water.

A FINE CREAM GRAVY
is made by adding a few spoonfuls Every Day Milk to chicken, veal or steak gravy.

FOR CEREALS, FRUITS OR CUSTARDS use Every Day Milk diluted to taste. Many persons prefer it to cream.

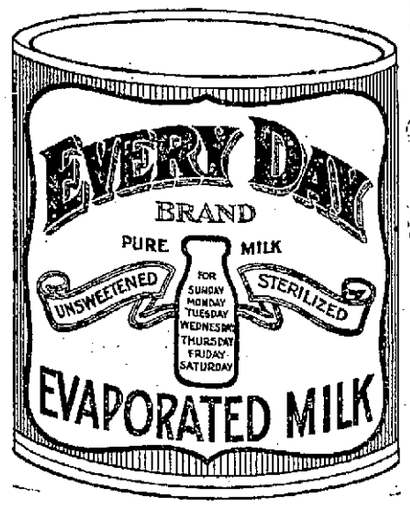
BUTTER IS SAVED
by adding a few tablespoonfuls Every Day Milk slightly diluted with hot water to mashed potatoes.

FOR DELICIOUS MILK TOAST
use Every Day Milk diluted with an equal part of water.

CREAM CHEESE
is made rich and delicious by beating into it a few tablespoonfuls of Every Day Milk.

REMEMBER
that Every Day Evaporated Milk can be satisfactorily used for every culinary and dietetic purpose for which good wholesome milk is required, and it also furnishes a most excellent substitute for cream. It excels in richness and flavor.

ASK YOUR GROCER
for "Some EVERY DAY Dishes and How to Prepare Them," a little book that gives a number of easy-to-follow recipes for cooking and baking. It's yours for the asking.



Made By the John Wildi Evaporated Milk Co., Highland, Ill., U. S. A.

Special Notice to Grocers: If our salesman has not yet called upon you to redeem the coupons you accepted in exchange for Every Day Evaporated Milk we ask you to kindly telephone us. Just call up No. 323 or you can send your coupons and trademarks direct to our principal offices at Highland, Ill., and check for the amount due will be promptly sent to you. We conscientiously endeavored to call upon every grocer in this district, and if any one has been missed it was through error.

Place—Ransburg.

A marriage in Indianapolis that concerns many friends of the bride in this city was that of Miss Ruth Allen Ransburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ransburg and Mr. William Cowley Place, which took place June 10 in the First United Brethren church, of that city. Rev. E. E. Swords, pastor of the church, officiated at the marriage. Musical numbers were the bridal music from Lohengrin, "O, Promise Me," sung by Miss Maude Hutto, "All Those Endearing Young Charms" and Mendelssohn's wedding march. A harpist assisted in the musical program. The altar of the church was banked with palms set with baskets of pink and white roses. The bridal gown was white satin messaline with elaborate trimmings of lace and pearl. The bride's bouquet was made of bride roses and smilax and her veil was held with a coronet of pearls. The maid of honor was gowned in pink voile and the two bridesmaids wore gowns of white chiffon with sashes of pink ribbon and carried arm bouquets of pink roses. There were two flower girls and a ring bearer suitably dressed in white costumes with pink, the only touch of color. The bride's mother wore a handsome blue foulard gown made up with lace, and the bridegroom's mother wore a tan color empire gown. The bride has many friends here, and the Ransburg family formerly lived in this city, and the bride was popular socially. Guests from this city at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John V. Reul. Mr. and Mrs. Place will live at Irvington.

Two-Piece French Dress

(By Mrs. [illegible])

3 SIZES 2 TO 6 YEARS

In order to have children well dressed it is not necessary that their clothing should be of expensive material or elaborately made; quite the contrary, in fact, for frocks of tub fabrics in plain models are more attractive. The dress pictured is of a design that will launder nicely and will be generally satisfactory and the pattern for it may be had in three sizes and will fit children from two to six years of age.

To copy it for a child four years old requires three yards of goods twenty-four inches wide, or two and one-eighth yards thirty-six inches wide.

As the tucked body and the sleeves of this dress are in one, without seams on the shoulders, it is not a desirable pattern to use for goods having a nap or up and down.

However, there are so many pretty prints and weaves that do not come under the head of these goods, that one has an almost unlimited number of weaves from which to select.

Striped seersucker, plaid and striped ginghams, lawns having small figures, and galatea, are suitable material from which to make such a dress.

After the pieces are cut according to the pattern and the lines of tucks marked, they should be basted in position, stitched, and then pressed on the wrong side with a hot iron before the seams are basted in and the waist tried on.

The dress will not require fitting, as it hangs from the shoulders in a loose easy way.

The short skirt may be joined to the waist either by a cording or under a belt of the goods.

Of course, all tub fabrics should be shrunk before made. In addition to this precaution the wise mother will make some plans for lengthening the skirt should it become necessary. The latter may be provided for either by a very deep hem or by tucks placed just above the top of the hem.

When tucks are used to lengthen a garment, it is better to sew them by hand so they can be ripped more easily and not leave ugly marks on the goods.

Entirely New Bill at Majestic Airdome This Evening.

Headed by those gifted entertainers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGreevey and including acts which rank high in American vaudeville today, the Majestic Airdome will present an entire change of program this evening. The bill for this week is a most attractive offering and it is confidently predicted that it will score a big success.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. McGreevey, who are seen in a comedy "Reub" offering, there are Newell and Nible, world's premier instrumentalists with their wonderful accomplishments with the saxophone and xylophone; Jay Bogart, monarch of minstrelsy in his black-face interpretations; the dainty Kathryn Rowe Palmer, comedienne; the illustrated song offering by Frank Jones and the latest motion pictures. Two performances, at 8 and 9:15 o'clock, with the audience always comfortable, regardless of the weather man's eccentricities.

At the Lyric.

The really big amateur show at the Lyric tonight promises a surprise which will please everyone. There is no danger of impure air or over-heated atmosphere for the theater has large exhaust fans to cool and purify the air. On Wednesday evening Arthur Hilker and William Rodenbeck will appear in a black face act.

The Diamond Airdome.

The Diamond Airdome will open its doors for the first time tonight. Heading the bill will be James Casey and Maggie LeClair in "The Irish Tenants;" McDonald and Huntington, character comedians, in a singing and dancing sketch; Herbert Terry, a comedian formerly with George M. Cohen; the Young brothers, equilibrists; Miss Doris Diamond, in illustrated songs, and the amiscope, with motion pictures, combine in making a bill of entertainment that promises much for the opening week of this new out door theater. The orchestra will be led by William Schaffer, who has had experience in orchestra work of bigger cities. The staff of the house is as follows: Proprietors, W. Morris and N. Diamond; manager, Arthur M. Diamond; treasurer, Joe Sanborn; musical director, William Schaffer; stage manager, Charles Sheets; electrician, Ray Hanna; program publisher, Harry Triskett; head usher, Herman Martin; drum and traps, Howard Richard.

USEFUL AND PRETTY.

A clever girl fashioned recently one of the prettiest of tea aprons from three-quarters of a yard of flowered organdy. She made the garment in this way: On one of the raw edges a hem two inches deep was set in. This was to be the bottom of the apron. On the opposite edge the material was laid in quarter-inch tucks their own distance apart, the entire width of the goods each twelve inches long. Then the work was folded selvedge to selvedge and a slant was made on the tucked edge, making the selvedge sides measure eight instead of twelve inches. Then each tuck was opened an inch and the edge finished with a narrow hem and narrow Val. lace. This created a little frill. An inch wide ribbon was used for a belt set on so a bib six inches deep from point to belt was formed. Beauty pins (three) were used to hold the bib in place, one at the point and one at either end. Pockets could be added if desired and a sewing apron could be made from the same pattern if one yard of material were used instead of three-quarters, the extra length being turned up and marked off into deep pockets with feather-stitching in mercerized thread.

THE NEW BARRETTE.

Are the barrettes to grow so large they will in time reach all around the head, as the pompadour has? It certainly appears so, judging from the new models. We all thought the five by three inch barrette was the maximumu size for such a hair ornament, but the latest extend half around the head and are secured to the hair by a comb-like arrangement set on either side of the barrette.

Some of the styles are beautiful, with semi-precious stones encrusted to give the appearance of a coronet. Others are simple, being of plain shell.

Madam Housewife--Is Your Time Worth Anything

Then we say, "Don't bake bread."

For when you are baking bread you are earning nothing whatever—rather you are wasting money.

For every loaf of bread you bake costs you five cents or more for material alone. The fuel and the time you spend is extra.

And yet you can buy bread as good as you can bake for only five cents a loaf. This bread is already perfectly baked, and takes none of your time whatever.

And so we say, if your time is worth anything, "Don't waste it in baking." Instead, buy, at yours dealers for ten cents a double loaf. You will find it to be as good, if not better than you can bake.

PERFECTION BREAD

And besides the time, think of the worry, the discomfiture of hot weather baking that Perfection Bread will save you.

Try a loaf of "Perfection." Give your family a chance to judge its quality. If they do not find it the best bread they ever tasted, then we have nothing more to say. Try it today.

SQUEEZE PLAY WINS THE FIRST OF SERIES

Stratton Hits and is Worked Across With the Winner.

After Catcher Stratton, for the Wheeling team, had hit a long fly in the seventh inning of the opener with the leaders at League park yesterday, that both Lester Channell and Iowert Blount raced after but failed to corral, although they collided in the attempt, Nolley dumped the ball along the third base line and beat it, and Benny Jewell delivered a perfect bunt that rounded out a squeeze play that sent over the winning run in a most excellent exhibition of how to play baseball. Wheeling annexed the game by a score of 2 to 1, and Fort Wayne's chief reason for not winning is that neither McDermott nor Clark could field the ball in the third with two men on.

The Stogies scored the first [illegible] the combat in the third when Nolley's pop fly fell safe in right and with two gone Bill Donahue hammered out a double. Fort Wayne came right back in the last half. Blount beat a ground ball that McKechnie stopped, but could not field. Hendricks tipped off a hit and run and delivered the bingle and Blount took third. Elston scored him with a sacrifice fly. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

In spite of the fact that it went the wrong way it was a grand game.

Nolley uses nothing but a spit ball except when he gets in a hole and has to put them over. Yesterday's victory was his ninth straight.

Frank Donahue crossed Nolley in the second and got a double. He had three and one on him and Nolley had to cut out the saliva to get the next one over. Donahue took a smash at it instead of waiting it out and got two sacks.

Wheeling has a great infield and all of the men are fast on the bases.

Blount featured the game with two hits, a stolen base and the only run of the engagement.

Channell's error was on a muffed ball that he came in on fast. It struck his glove and bounded out but did no damage as no runs followed.

Robertson pitched good ball all the way through, but the hits against him were lucky.

Blount had a busy day. He got five put-outs, one that he picked off for Maggie in the seventh looked good for three bags when it started.

Hendricks hit in the third and sent Blount around where he could score on a sacrifice fly. He had another chance to send the runner around in the fifth, but rolled an easy one to third.

Tomorrow will be ladies' day and all of the lady rooters will have an opportunity to see the leaders for nothing.

Corns and Miller were sent up in the ninth in place of Lindsay and McDermott in an effort to save the game. Both are good hitters, but they couldn't solve Nolley's spitter.

FIELD DAY AT PARK.

BASEBALL PLAYERS GOOD PROPERTY.

"Why the —— don't you get a catcher who can hit?" yelled some enthusiastic fan at the game yesterday when both McDermott and Clark failed to hit with a man on second and one on third and Fort Wayne lost the best kind of an opportunity to win.

Speaking of the matter this morning, Owner Claude H. Varnell, who came over from Wheeling to witness the game, said that base ball players are just as good as United States bonds just at this time. A catcher who could hit, say .275, in the Central league with the pitchers going like they are at this time would be worth just what the owner would have the nerve to ask for him.

This is not the worst feature of the matter. Good minor league ball players are not to be obtained. Most of the majors and Class A. A. clubs have gotten rid of their surplus players either by farming them or selling to the minors and no manager of a team in a class lower than the Central would think of selling a promising youngster with the season fairly begun, and there you are.

It is not a question of price, but they simply can not be had at this time. Of course now and then a man is picked up to fill in where there has been a weak spot, but cases of this kind are rare. The only chance the minors have is to build up in the spring and but for the iron-clad anti-farming rule in the Central, there might be a chance to strengthen up.

Manager Jack Hendricks will probably try a switch this afternoon by putting McDermott on the bench for a while, playing Frankie Donahue at third and Fremer at second. McDermott started like a house afire in the early part of the season and could easily have been sold for $1,500, but he has had a batting slump and it is believed a rest will do him good.

The Wheeling series will close on Wednesday and the club will go to Dayton for four days and back four days with Grand Rapids.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS AND MECHANICS.

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by all druggists.

Rhode Island received its name from what was supposed to be a resemblance in contour to the Island of Rhodes in the Mediterranean.

IT'S THE ONLY PLACE

A newcomer to Fort Wayne told us he asked an old resident the other day: "What kind of a place to buy furniture is Foster's?" "It's the only place," was the reply.

That is true in one sense, but not so in another. There are other places in Fort Wayne where furniture and carpets may be bought, but in the sense that one should, of course, trade where he can get the most and the best for his money ours is "the only place."

We bow our thanks to the "Old Resident," for we sold the customer he sent to us a bill of nearly $300. We greatly appreciate the kindness of so many Fort Wayne merchants in other lines of business in their sending their customers to us for goods in our line.

Advertised Trade Mark Specialties

There are certain advertised specialties in furniture that have become exceedingly popular. We are the Fort Wayne agents for the best of such lines. Here are a few of them:

GLOBE-WERNICKE SECTIONAL BOOKCASES

These are the original of all Sectional Bookcases and the one make you should buy, because no matter how many years may elapse you will always be able to get new units to match your old ones. The company is a very rich one and will be on deck 100 years from now, to match anything you have. Many makers of sectional bookcases have already failed and quit business.

PARK MILLS HIGHEST GRADE INGRAIN CARPETS

For over twenty years we have been the sole Fort Wayne agents for these celebrated goods. They keep their colors better and wear longer than any other make of Ingrain Carpet. Recently the Park Mills have gone into the manufacture of standard velvet carpets and are now producing the best velvet carpet known to the trade.

McDOUGALL KITCHEN CABINETS

The idea that any old rough pine board is good enough for the kitchen has passed away. If the housewife does her own work some of the money spent for cigars or automobiles ought to go into the kitchen conveniences. Then if you have a maid, in these days when maids are scarce, a little consideration for her comfort will make her desire to stay.

"COLD STORAGE" WHITE ENAMEL SANITARY REFRIGERATORS

You can buy this celebrated make of Refrigerator in Fort Wayne only of us. It costs you scarcely any more than the ordinary refrigerator. It is an ice saver, and keeps the food in a manner unequalled by any other make. It has the new patented glass trap, without which no refrigerator can be perfect. Come in and examine them and you will buy no other.

Our Fall Stock of Rugs Now In

The new styles of rugs for the coming fall season we have had shipped early in order to show Fort Wayne people the new designs 30 to 60 days in advance of other stores. We especially want you to see the new line of Hartford Axminsters, which, by reason of an immense purchase, we are able to offer at the same price as the lower grade lighter weight Axminsters are being sold. More rugs and fewer carpets are constantly being bought, and no carpet house in Fort Wayne is so well equipped for caring for the room rug trade as ourselves.

SPECIAL TERMS MADE UPON HOUSEKEEPING OUTFITS. FIVE PER CENT OFF FOR CASH, OR CREDIT ACCOMMODATIONS IF YOU PREFER.

TALKED TO COMMISSION.

Engineer Mike Lacey Discourses on Head Lights.

The Indianapolis papers, in making notice of the "head light hearing" before the railroad commission of Indiana at Indianapolis Friday, quoted Engineer Michael R. Lacey, of this city, as being opposed to electric head lights because it was too powerful and obstructed the view from the cab window. The Indianapolis Star said: "M. R. Lacey, of Fort Wayne, one of the engineers who testified, stated that it was not possible to see ahead with an electric headlight from the windows of the engine cab. In order to see at all, he said, it was necessary to get down off the seat to the step of the cab, so as to look 'under the light.' He also stated that an engineer was not always looking ahead, and that the light was of little service except to people as warning of the approach of the train. Even with an electric headlight, he said, the object seen on the track would be too close for the engine to be stopped. Engineers, he said, trusted to track men that the condition of the right of way be safe."

At the hearing there were more than twenty-five engineers and as many more railroad men of various employment and the opinion among them seemed to be that oil was the best fuel for headlights. The last Indiana legislature passed a law making it the duty of the commission to determine the most suitable headlight and to see that the railway companies used it.

BOWSER MANAGERS RETURN.

Leave for Home After Attending Conferences.

Most of the managers of the branch offices of S. F. Bowser & Co., who were here last week to attend the conferences with the management of the company left for their respective homes Saturday. R. S. Colwell returned to Chicago, W. R. Hance to Toronto and H. E. Anderson to Boston. M. Savercool, the San Francisco manager, went to New York Saturday and will leave that city some time this week for his home. W. T. Hatmaker, manager of the New York branch office, and H. W. Worrall, manager of the Philadelphia office, remained here over Sunday and will leave tonight for their respective homes.

INTERURBAN'S SPEED STUNT.

Special Car Came Down From Garrett in Twenty-Seven Minutes.

A chartered car on the Auburn interurban line made the run from Garrett to Fort Wayne yesterday afternoon, a distance of twenty-one miles, in twenty-seven minutes. It left Garrett at 5:53 and stopped at the station in this city at 6:20. The car carried forty-two members of the K. O. T. M., who had been attending memorial services at Auburn.

STORRER IN HOSPITAL.

W. H. M. Storrer, salesman for S. F. Bowser & Co., with headquarters in Boston, is in the Lutheran hospital, suffering from a severe attack of quinsy. Mr. Storrer came here a week ago to attend a business meeting of Bowser managers and salesmen.

EXHIBIT AT ATLANTIC CITY.

S. F. Bowser & Co. have a magnificent exhibit of oil pumps and appurtenances at the meeting of the Master Car Builders and the Master Mechanics' associations at Atlantic City this week. Included in the display are brass pumps and fancy cabinets of the latest design and most handsome pattern. C. A. Dunkelburg will have supervision over the exhibits. He left for Atlantic City, accompanied by Mrs. Dunkelburg, last Friday, and will remain there until the close of the conventions, which continues two weeks.

WILL GO TO ALASKA.

Dr. E. F. Wagner, of the Pennsylvania Relief department, has in contemplation a trip to Alaska. He will join a party as the guest of William Allen, who represents a mining company of New York, who have interests twenty-four miles out from Fort Brisbin, July 6. The party will travel to Seattle in a private car, going via Vancouver over the Canadian Pacific. At Seattle they will take passage on a steamer which will pass up the coast, stopping at all of the leading ports, and go to Fort Brisbin, from whence they will go by stage to Porcupine Ridge, a distance of twenty-four miles, over a rough and dangerous route. About six weeks will be consumed in making the trip.

WABASH OFFICIALS HERE.

W. A. Hopkins, chief electrician of the Wabash, was in the city today, superintending the starting of the electrical machinery in the company's pumping station on the banks of the St. Mary's river. The plant was to have been put in operation last week, but a slight accident caused delay. Yesterday Mr. White, chief clerk to G. G. Yeomans, assistant to President F. A. Delano, was in the city on business for the company.

HAVEN'T SIGNED SCALE.

None of the managers of the independent steel and iron manufacturing establishments, including the Fort Wayne Rolling Mills company, have signed the Amalgamated association's wage scale for 1909-1910. The old wage scale expires July 1 and unless the new one is signed by that time the men in the rolling mills here and elsewhere will probably not be allowed to work.

MR. BEHAN ARRIVES.

T. W. Behan, who has succeeded Charles Sedgwick at the Fort Wayne Electric works, arrived in the city from the east last Friday and has taken up his new duties. Mr. Behan was connected with the Fort Wayne branch several years ago and is quite well known here. Mr. Sedgewick, as previously stated, resigned to take a position elsewhere.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

R. M. Claude, a Pennsylvania car builder, is sick and off duty.

George Platts, of the Electric works, was the guest of friends at Crooked lake over Sunday.

Wabash Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, went to Montpelier on business for the company this morning.

Howard Wright resigned a position at the Wabash machine shops this morning to take a position at the Pennsylvania shops.

Machinist Henry Regel, of the Pennsylvania, has recovered from a painful case of ivy poisoning, which rendered him unfit for work for several days.

John R. Dennison, a machinist, has resigned his position at the Fort Wayne Electric works and will establish a general repair shop down town.

Tomorrow Clark Babb will be transferred from the supplies department of the Wabash to the blacksmith shop in the capacity of blacksmith's apprentice.

Sales Manager F. S. Hunting and Chief Engineer A. L. Hadley, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, left yesterday for Schenectady on business for the company.

C. B. Moore, of the Wabash machine shop, has under contemplation a visit with relatives at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and will leave for that city the latter part of the week.

M. S. Willson, who had been at Cleveland to attend the wedding of his son, resumed his duties as foreman of the incandescent testing room at the Electric works this morning.

Motive Power Superintendent E. F. Needham, of the Wabash, who spent Sunday with relatives in the city, left this morning for his home in Springfield, Ill.

Machinist and Mrs. T. C. Patton will go to St. Louis the latter part of the week for a visit with friends. Mr. Patton will return in a week, but his wife will remain there an indefinite period. Mr. Patton is employed in the Wabash shops.

On account of rush of work Saturday, some of the blacksmiths at the Pennsylvania shops were compelled to work in the afternoon, an unusual thing now, for the Saturday half holiday has been in force for two or three years.

An average of a ton of mail is transferred here daily from Wabash train No. 28 to the Pennsylvania and sent east over the latter line. No other mail train in Fort Wayne, it is said, furnishes as much work for the transfer agents at the depots as does this Wabash train.

A special train of seven Pullman cars passed through the city as the second section of the Pennsylvania Special, No. 29, last evening. The train carried a lot of credit men from Chicago and cities west to Philadelphia, where the Credit Men's association, will hold a convention this week.

A proposition has been submitted to the Lake Erie and Western company to run an excursion from Fort Wayne to Terre Haute, June 27, when the Fort Wayne and the Terre Haute base ball teams will play in that city. It is believed here that an excursion to that city on that date would be well patronized, especially by base ball "fans." The matter will be decided in a few days.

A rumor from Garrett was to the effect that a proposition to have some of the B. & O. engines repaired in the Pennsylvania shops in this city is under consideration. If such a thing is being considered, news of it has not been confirmed by an official statement. The Pennsylvania shops in this city appear to have all they can do at present to handle the company's repair work.

Wabash Yard Conductor W. E. Rowe sent his daughter, Miss Hazel, to Dayton, Ohio, this morning to remain during the summer months. The young lady has been sick for some time and the change is made in the hopes that it will benefit her health. Mr. Rowe resumed work this morning, after being absent three or four days assisting his daughter in getting ready for the journey.

Miss Della Van Vorhis was hostess of a party of girl companions from the General Electric lamp works Friday night at Robison park, where the evening was spent in dancing and attending the various amusement features. Among the guests were the Misses Amanda Grogan, Leona Haley, Henrietta C. Alter, Katie Hartman, Caroline Lamle, Emma Axt, Anna Valser, Della Louthan, Dorothy Schrader and Margaret McLeish. Dorothy Schrader was the only out of town guest.

In mentioning the annual tournament at Hartford City of the Northern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association, June 24, the papers of that city make the part the Packard City band will take in the program one of the strong features and intimate that it alone will draw many people to Hartford City on that occasion. The tournament people have heard the Packard band at former tournament and give it credit with being the best musical organization in the state. This band will also furnish music for the firemen's ice cream social at Swinney park next Friday.

Don't fail to hear "Gallia" and "Song of Victory" chorus at First M. E. church Tuesday evening, June 15. Admission 25 cents.

JUST ONE A DAY.

How the Coffee Drinker Compromises His Health.

Some people say: "Coffee don't hurt me," and then add: "Anyway I only drink one cup a day."

If coffee really don't hurt why not drink more? There is but one answer and that is coffee does hurt them and they know it. When they drink it once a day they compromise with their enemy. There are people whom one cup of coffee a day will put in bed, if the habit be continued.

"Although warned by physicians to let coffee alone I have always been so fond of it that I continued to use it," confesses an Ohio lady. "I compromised with myself and drank just one cup every morning until about six weeks ago.

"All the time I was drinking coffee I had heart trouble that grew steadily worse and finally I had such alarming sensations in my head (sometimes causing me to fall down) that I at last took my doctor's advice and quit coffee and began to use Postum in its place.

"The results have been all that the doctor hoped, for I have not only lost my craving for coffee and enjoy my good Postum just as well, but my heart trouble has ceased and I have no more dizzy spells in my head. I feel better in every way and consider myself a very fortunate woman to have found the truth about Postum."

Look in packages for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really nothing more than strong mineral mixtures which act so unpleasantly and disastrously on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even if such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S. S. S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made entirely of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S. S. S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition when it has purified the blood. Book containing much valuable information on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

Webb Nye, an old resident of Warsaw, on Wednesday received a check for $13 for services rendered in defending the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1861, The check is pay for a month's service as a "squirrel hunter," or "minute-man," and its payment has been delayed from year to year for more than forty years, because of the want of sufficient appropriation. The Ohio legislature made an appropriation years ago, but the money did not reach all those who had served and the last legislature finished the work with a second appropriation. Mr. Nye filed his claim last winter.

The lifeless body of Richard McCormick, one of the owners of a stave factory at Roanoke, was dragged from the swollen waters of Cow creek, a short distance west of Roanoke, Sunday morning. The man had been missing for several days and the creek was being dragged for his body. McCormick, who is said to have been addicted to liquor occasionally, was last seen when he alighted from a Fort Wayne interurban car at Roanoke Wednesday evening, shortly after a terrific rainfall. He had apparently started for his home and evidently fell from a bridge into the creek. McCormick was about 50 years of age and came to Roanoke about a year ago from Payne, Ohio. He leaves a family.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering."—Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—Unexpectedly heavy shipments of wheat from Russia last week had a depressing effect on the market here at the start, although prices were only a trifle below Saturday's closing figures. A mild rally occurred early in the day, owing to fairly brisk demand by several leading commission houses, but prices soon dropped back again to about the opening level. The beginning of harvest operations in Missouri was an additional weakening influence. Prices at the opening were ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher, July being at $1.17 to $1.17⅜. After advancing to $1.17¾ July declined again to $1.17¼.

The heat market became extremely weak in the last half of the day, owing to a sharp break in the price of the cash grain, July declining to $1.15¾. The close was weak with July off ¾@⅞c at $1.16⅜@1.16½.

Cold, wet weather in the corn belt caused a bulge in prices in the market for corn at the start, but an easier tone soon developed on profit taking. July at the opening showed a gain of ⅛c to ½c at 73¼c to 73½c, but later sold off to 72⅞@73c.

The break in wheat caused additional weakness later in the day the July delivery declining to 72½c. The close was weak, July being down ¼c at 72¾c.

Oats were firm at the start, owing to the strength of corn, but eased off following the reaction in that grain. July opened ⅛c higher at 52⅞c, sold at 52⅞@53c and then declined to 52¾c.

Provisions were strong on a 10c to 15c advance in the price of live hogs, due to continued small arrivals. Prices at the opening were 4@7½c to 15c higher than Saturday's final figures.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, June 14.—The week's opening movement of stock prices was irregular, but the gains considerably outnumbered the declines. United States Steel was a strong feature, six thousand shares changing hands at 69 and 69⅛, compared with 68¼ on Saturday. Vulcan Detinning rose 1⅜, Wabash preferred 1¼ and General Electric, Westinghouse Electric and Virginia-Carolina Chemical large fractions.

The tone became heavy after the opening. Reading reacting a point and some other standard stocks also selling under last week's close. Later, buying of Pennsylvania, Union Pacific and United States Steel, in which the last named touched 69½, a record price, the market pulled up somewhat, but the recovery was not maintained. Pennsylvania, Allis-Chalmers preferred, Colorado Fuel, Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred and United States Reduction advanced 1 to 1¼ and the preferred 1½. Northern Pacific and American Cotton Oil declined 1 and Hocking Coal 1½.

Persistent absorption of United States Steel caused a slow, but aggressive advance to 69¾c. Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper rose 1 point and Wabash preferred 1½. There were sharp gains in some of the specialties. Southern Pacific and the Hill stocks were heavy. Great Northern preferred lost 1 point. This kept the tone irregular. New Haven, United States Steel preferred, American Ice, Interborough-Metropolitan preferred and North American showed gains of 1 to 2¼. Chicago Great Western preferred A dropped 1⅝. Bonds were irregular.

Outside of the improvement shown by a few specialties, fluctuations in the market was insignificant, and there was a marked contraction of the dealings in the active stocks. Amalgamated Copper and Distillers' Securities gained 1 point, Corn Products preferred 1½ and Allis-Chalmers preferred 2. Lackawanna broke 5 points and Colorado & Southern 2⅛.

The market was at a standstill late in the day, only a nominal business being done in the representative stocks. Delaware & Hudson, Northwestern and Iowa Central preferred fell 1. International Harvester moved up 1¾.

The market closed easy. The Wabash Securities forced upwards, but with remarkable little effect on the general list which sagged. Wabash preferred rose 4⅜, the common stock 1⅜ and the extension 4s 2½. There were reports of control by the Lackawanna. American Woolen declined 1⅜ and Southern Pacific preferred, American Locomotive, Consolidated Gas, American Beet Sugar, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and American Smelting preferred 1. Manhattan sold at a decline of 2½.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, June 14.—Money on call, easy, at 1½@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1⅞ per cent; closing bid, 1⅞ per cent.

Time loans, softer; sixty days, 2½ per cent and ninety days, 2¾ per cent; six months, 3½ per cent.

Close—Prime mercantile paper, 3½ per cent.

Sterling exchange, steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 485.95@486 for sixty day bills and at 487.75 for demand.

Commercial bills, 485¾.

Bar silver, 52⅝c; Mexican dollars, 44c.

Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

A dullness in the egg market at 19c and a firmness in the butter market at 18c and 20c resulted from the light activities in the wholesale market lines this morning. The receipts were practically nothing with the demands not showing themselves.

Said G. H. Crouse, of the commission house of G. H. Crouse & Co., this morning: "Tuesday's market will be small with the demands running best for good butter. The potato market is on the decline, owing to the nearness of the market for the new quality."

Wheat dropped to $1.47 per bu., while other prices remained the same today.

CITY BREVITIES.

Dick Brandt and his son, Edward, who has just completed a course at Purdue, will leave Tuesday for Germany, to be gone several months.

Prof L. W. Fairfield, vice president of the Tri-State college at Angola, visited with friends in this city yesterday.

Dr. E. J. McOscar and mother, Mrs. Mary McOscar have returned from Philadelphia, where Dr. McOscar attended the meeting of the American Medical association.

Miss Josephine Hurley, who has been a clerk at the Anthony hotel cigar stand since the opening of that hostelry, has resigned to re-assume her position at the Wayne hotel cigar stand.

Charles Gemmill, a night fireman at the Anthony, had his right hand badly burned early this morning in grasping an electric wire which carries 500 volts. Mr. Gemmill had been accustomed of taking hold of the wire but the worn insulation was too thin to prevent his receiving the shock.

SOLDIERS ARE INTERESTED.

Many Contemplate Registering for Flat Head Reservation.

The opening of the Flat Head Indian reservation in western Montana will take place on July 5 and continue until August 5. A number of soldiers in this vicinity are contemplating registering in the hopes of obtaining a hundred-and-sixty-acre plot of land. W. A. Ferris is acting as the northern Indiana agent.

FRONT OF AUTO SET AFIRE.

Jerry O'Connor Has Second Disastrous Experience Within Two Weeks.

In his second disastrous auto experience within as many weeks, Jerry O'Connor early Sunday morning sustained a loss of about $100 when the front end of his Auburn car caught afire while he was filling the gasoline tank at the Auburn garage on East Columbia street. Mr. O'Connor dropped some gasoline on the hot headlight and the car had to be backed into the street and sand poured upon the blaze before it was extinguished. Two ladies who were in the car jumped before their clothes were set ablaze. Mr. O'Connor had the front of his suit singed, but considers himself very fortunate in escaping so luckily. A fire alarm brought two companies to the scene of the accident.

Mr. O'Connor is just recovering from some bruises and cuts received in the accident several weeks back, when his machine turned turtle.

HELD MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Members of Tribe of Ben Hur Hear Sermon by Rev. C. C. Travis.

The two Fort Wayne courts of the Tribe of Ben Hur united Sunday evening in the annual memorial service as a tribute of respect to the memory of deceased members, attending the exercises at Wayne street M. E. church in a body. The ritualistic memoral service was conducted by the officers of the two courts and Rev. C. Claude Travis, pastor of Wayne street M. E. church, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and the colors of the fraternity.

MR. BARRETT WAS LOW MAN.

Won Out Over 24 Players in Golf Matches Last Saturday.

Hon. James M. Barrett was the low man over twenty-four players in the "survival of the fittest" matches played at the Kekionga golf links Saturday afternoon. S. D. Hanna, Sam Fisher and Charles McDougal were next, so that the trophies were split. The ladies will have an opportunity of competing in a similar match next Saturday afternoon when the "blind bogey" will be played.

MAURICE PAULEY GRADUATES.

Fort Wayne Young Man Member of Class at St. Joseph's College.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Pauley and daughter, Helen, left today for St. Joseph's college at Rensselaer to attend the commencement exercises of that institution. Maurice J. Pauley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Pauley, is a member of the graduating class, having completed a four years' course at St Joseph's.

HEALTH AND SPORT
For Boys and Girls

You give the children both healthy exercise and fun when you give them an "Irish Racer." Isn't money spent for the child's health well invested?

Propelling this "Irish Racer" develops the muscles of the arms and legs, the muscles of the chest and the muscles that hold the spine and back erect. Every muscle from the top of the head to the soles of the feet is in motion while running this handcar.

These Are Some of the GOOD POINTS About the "IRISH RACER"

Easy to Run—Gears encased in one casting—both bearings in one casting.

Shield Over Gears—No mashed fingers—no torn clothes

Adjustable— Front axle slides on franme—small or large child can ride it.

Wheels — One-half-inch rubber tire on wheels.

And the Price is Only $3.98

THE SWEET GIRL GRADUATE---

WHAT SHALL YOU GIVE HER?

No girl would feel herself properly "graduated" without at least one fan among her gifts. It is such a dainty and pretty gift and one, too, that is sure of a warm welcome from the fair recipient.

For even such a small sum as 50c one may procure an unusually pretty little fan. Or one may pay $5.00 for a spangled beauty with ivory sticks. And there is a host of prices in between, of fans any girl, be she graduate or not, would love to possess.

But if you do not wish to give a fan why not a

DAINTY HAT PIN? She can never have too many. 25c to $4.00.

BROOCHES are sure to please—25c to $8.00.

BELT BUCKLES, mighty handy and necessary to the summer girl. Priced from 25c to $5.00.

FIREMEN'S TEN-YEAR PICNIC.

There was plenty doing at the ten-year picnic at the Sandy Nook club house on Saturday afternoon, when the six men who were taken into the city's fire service on June 12, 1899, were the hosts to fifty of their friends. The dinner and supper proved to be about as great features of the day as any, though the ball game and sports also netted much fun. The firemen's nine defeated the Chairwarmers by the score of 11 to 7. The bicycle race was won by Charley Cross; the fat men's race by William Harber; the lean men's race by William Striebig. Paul Cornelle and William Brandt carried out a friendly contest with the result still doubtful.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank the many friends and Lincoln Lodge of K. P.'s and men employed at the Bass foundry, of the wheel department, for their tokens and expressions of kindness and sympathy in my late bereavement. I thank the employes for their testimonial of $40.26.
